Suitability of law relating to senior citizens being assessed, says Nancy

KUALA LUMPUR: The Ministry of Women, Family, and Community Development (KPWK) is currently evaluating the feasibility of introducing a law to ensure the welfare and protection of the elderly.

Minister Datuk Seri Nancy Shukri explained that before any such law is implemented, it is essential to gain consensus on its approach, particularly regarding whether punitive measures should be imposed on children who fail to fulfil their responsibility to care for their parents, similar to the approach in Singapore.

"Additionally, we must consider whether fostering noble values, responsibility, and other principles within families would create strong family institutions, thus reducing the need for legal enforcement," she said during the question-and-answer session at the Dewan Negara yesterday.

She added the evaluation is part of a study to determine whether a new law should be drafted, or if improvements can be made through amendments to existing laws.

Nancy was responding to a supplementary question from Senator Che Alias Hamid, who inquired about the current status of the Senior Citizens Bill, which was initially planned for tabling this year, but has since been postponed.

Che Alias emphasised that the Senior Citizens Bill is crucial, as Malaysia prepares for its transition into an ageing nation by 2030, highlighting the need for it to be prioritised.

In response to an inquiry from Senator Datuk Shamsuddin Abd Ghaffar regarding the long-term plan to address the issue of neglected and suffering senior citizens, Nancy said her ministry has implemented various initiatives, including the Cinta Minda Intergenerasi programme.

The programme, launched under the state-level Senior Citizen Development Committee in 2018, focuses on raising awareness, and bridging the generational gap between youths and seniors. — Bernama

Govt mulls new law to protect senior citizens

➤ Minister highlights need for consensus on legal and family-based approaches

KUALA LUMPUR: The Women, Family and Community Development Ministry is evaluating the feasibility of introducing a law to ensure the welfare and protection of the elderly.

Minister Datuk Seri Nancy Shukri said before implementing such a law, it is crucial to gain consensus on its approach, particularly whether punitive measures should be imposed on children who neglect their responsibility to care for their parents, similar to Singapore's approach.

She was speaking during a question-and-answer session at the Dewan Negara yesterday in response to a supplementary question from Senator Che Alias Hamid, who asked about the current status of the senior citizens Bill, initially scheduled for tabling this year, but postponed.

Che Alias emphasised the importance of the Bill as Malaysia approaches its transition into an ageing nation by 2030, urging for the Bill be prioritised.

In response to a question from Senator Datuk Shamsuddin Abd Ghaffar regarding the long-term plan to address the issue of neglected and suffering senior citizens, Nancy said her ministry has implemented several initiatives, including the Cinta Minda Intergenerasi programme.

Launched in 2018 under the state-level senior citizen development committee, the programme focuses on raising awareness and bridging the generational gap between youths and seniors, fostering mutual respect and appreciation between the generations, Bernama reported.

Additionally, the National Advisory and Consultative Council for Older Persons continues to offer recommendations and advise the government on matters related to senior citizens, including empowering their rights and developing infrastructure to cater to their needs.

"All stakeholders are encouraged to contribute their views and suggestions to enhance the well-being of senior citizens," she added.

Ministry of Health to increase allocation for HIV/AIDS prevention programme

Highlights - Dicipta: 10 Disember 2024 02:18 PM - Kemas kini: 10 Disember 2024 02:22 PM

KUALA LUMPUR, Dec 10 – The Ministry of Health of Malaysia (KKM) has increased the allocation of an additional RM1 million for the Differentiated HIV Services for Key Populations (DHSKP) programme in order to finance the HIV/AIDS prevention programme, starting in 2025.

This addition made the total annual allocation for the programme increase to RM8 million.

Minister of Health Datuk Seri Dr. Dzulkefly Ahmad said that the grant will be used to expand the DHSKP programme designed to reduce new infections.

In addition, it aims to improve the quality of life of those affected through prevention, screening, and care services provided at KKM primary care facilities throughout the country.

"This initiative reflects the government's commitment to work together to deal with AIDS, as a shared responsibility between the government, civil society, and other stakeholders.

"The response to AIDS should not be one-sided," he said in a statement.

The Minister of Women, Family and Community Development Datuk Seri Nancy Shukri emphasised the importance of a holistic approach in dealing with HIV/AIDS.

"Tackling this epidemic requires an approach that not only offers medical solutions but also addresses the stigma, discrimination, and socioeconomic challenges faced by those affected.

"Issues such as women's rights, economic equality, and child welfare are closely linked to the fight against HIV/AIDS. Therefore, collective efforts that prioritise systemic change and individual well-being are much needed," she said.

She also emphasised her ministry's support for initiatives such as the MyLady Assistance Scheme, a microcredit programme for single mothers living with HIV, apart from considering reviving the HIV/AIDS Shelter programme run by the Malaysian AIDS Council.

In the meantime, the chairman of the Malaysian AIDS Foundation (MAF), Professor Datuk Dr. Adeeba Kamarulzaman stressed the importance of the corporate sector's involvement in the national response to AIDS.

"Corporate donations are now the second largest source of funds for MAF and MAC after the Ministry of Health. This collaboration fills a critical gap, ensuring aid reaches the communities and individuals most in need," he said.

He also mentioned the economic value of the HIV/AIDS program, citing a DM Analytics study which found that every RM1 invested in HIV/AIDS initiatives can generate RM14 in productivity.

During the Red Ribbon Gala held recently, a total of RM2.8 million was successfully raised through sponsorship and table sales, with large contributions from the Sunway Group, Yayasan Petronas, KAREX, and others.

The event is part of the Sunway Group's 50th anniversary celebration and is celebrated concurrently with World AIDS Day.

The guests were also entertained by performances by famous artists such as Datuk Zainal Abidin, Dayang Nurfaizah, Datuk Francesca Peter, Amir Masdi, and Bob Yusof.

Tiada kenaikan yuran TASKA, TABIKA KEMAS tahun depan

Oleh: Wan Zairul Azri Wan Mohammad Sudin

PUTRAJAYA: Tiada kenaikan yuran Taman Asuhan Kanak-Kanak (TASKA) dan Taman Bimbingan Kanak-Kanak (TABIKA) yang dikendalikan Jabatan Kemajuan Masyarakat (KEMAS) bagi sesi persekolahan tahun depan.

Perkara itu disahkan KEMAS dalam satu kenyataan.

"Merujuk kepada laporan media bertajuk 'Yuran Taska dan Tadika meningkat hingga 25%', KEMAS ingin memaklumkan bahawa ia tidak melibatkan TABIKA dan TASKA di bawah kendalian pihak kami," katanya.

Terdahulu, media melaporkan, yuran Taman Didikan Kanak-Kanak (TADIKA) dan TASKA seluruh negara dijangka naik antara 20 hingga 25 peratus pada tahun depan, susulan kenaikan kadar gaji minimum kepada RM1,700 sebulan yang diumumkan kerajaan berkuat kuasa 1 Februari depan.

Persatuan TADIKA Islam Malaysia (PERTIM) dan Persatuan Pendidik Institusi Pendidikan Negeri Johor, yang menaungi pengusaha TADIKA, selain Persatuan Pengasuhan dan Perkembangan Awal Kanak-Kanak Berdaftar Malaysia yang menaungi pengusaha TASKA mengesahkan kenaikan yuran perkhidmatan ditawarkan kira-kira 4,500 ahli mereka susulan kenaikan kos operasi.

Bagaimanapun, kenaikan berkenaan perlu mendapat kebenaran dan menerusi permohonan dibuat kepada Jabatan Pendidikan Negeri (JPN) atau Pejabat Pendidikan Daerah (PPD) sebelum dilaksanakan.

Mengulas lanjut, KEMAS menyatakan, laporan disiarkan sebuah agensi berita yang memaparkan visual rakaman di dalam TABIKA KEMAS menimbulkan kebimbangan dalam kalangan masyarakat terutama ibu bapa yang menghantar anak mereka ke TABIKA dan TASKA KEMAS.

Justeru, KEMAS berharap ibu bapa kekal tenang dan terus menjadikan TABIKA KEMAS sebagai pilihan utama dalam pendidikan awal kanak-kanak.

"Kerajaan MADANI melalui KEMAS sentiasa prihatin terhadap bebanan rakyat dan berusaha meringankan kesulitan yang dihadapi masyarakat," katanya.

Untuk sebarang pertanyaan, orang ramai boleh menghubungi Ibu Pejabat KEMAS Putrajaya di talian 03-88912682.

Ministry raising awareness on child, teen mental health

KUALA LUMPUR: The Health Ministry is focusing on conducting comprehensive engagement sessions with stakeholders, including NGOs, to raise public awareness regarding mental health among children and adolescents.

Deputy Health Minister Datuk Lukanisman Awang Sauni said there is still stigma from parents who cannot accept that their child is identified as having mental health issues.

“During counselling, teachers find that some children, especially in primary schools, have mental health issues while parents are unable to accept sending their children for screening and treatment at health facilities,” he said during the question-and-answer session in Dewan Rakyat yesterday.

He was responding to a question from Datuk Seri Dr Wan Azizah Wan Ismail (PH-Bandar Tun Razak) regarding the effectiveness of measures through the National Security Policy 2021-2025 as a report recorded 424,000 children, aged five to nine, in Malaysia with mental health issues.

Lukanisman said through information and experience-sharing sessions, Malaysia has good mental health programmes and modules that are praised by foreign countries, but the process to strengthen understanding among the community regarding the matter is lacking.

He suggested that members of Parliament organise programmes to enhance understanding of mental health in their respective constituencies.

He said the ministry aims to increase the number of child and adolescent psychiatry specialists to 30 by 2027, from 18 currently serving in ministry hospitals. – Bernama

TAJUK :	BABY HATCH: NOBLE EFFORT TO SAVE ABANDONED INFANTS

Among the baby hatch rooms available at KPJ Seremban.

Baby hatch: Noble effort to save abandoned infants

Sarinah Mat Kasim & Nursyahiba Sukri

SEREMBAN: Case 1: A newborn baby girl, with her umbilical cord and placenta still attached, was discovered at an Islamic education centre in Selama, Perak. This led to the arrest of a teenage boy and girl, aged 17 and 14, respectively, suspected of abandoning the infant.

Case 2: A week-old baby boy was found near the Paka Beach in Terengganu. The unfortunate baby, left in a bag and abandoned in a dry drain, narrowly escaped being mauled by a dog before being rescued by a lorry driver.

Case 3: In Taman Daya, Johor Bahru, a newborn baby girl was found on the ninth-floor staircase of an apartment building on March 11.

These three cases of baby abandonment are just a few examples of the ongoing 'nightmare' that continues to affect society in this country. Such incidents are reported regularly, involving babies who are either left alive or found lifeless.

Despite numerous efforts by the authorities, non-governmental organisations (NGOs) and social groups, this issue remains unresolved. It demands more proactive and effective measures from the relevant authorities, to be implemented urgently.

Statistics
According to official statistics from the Royal Malaysia Police (PDRM), 75 cases of baby abandonment were reported from January to September this year, versus 96 cases recorded during the same period last year. While this indicates a slight decline, it remains a concerning issue.

By state, Selangor recorded the highest number of cases in 2023 with 38, followed by Sabah with 21, and Johor, 14.

From January to September this year, Selangor again topped the list with 21 cases, followed by Johor with nine cases, and Perak, eight.

Legally, cases of baby abandonment in Malaysia are typically investigated under the Child Act 2001 and the Penal Code. The locations for baby abandonment in Malaysia are often accessible, concealed or less-crowded areas.

According to Deputy Director of the Sexual, Women and Children Investigations Division, Bukit Aman Criminal Investigation Department (CID), SAC Siti Kamsiah Hassan, the most common locations include residential areas such as neighbours' yards, back alleys, and playgrounds.

Hospitals, clinics, mosques, public toilets, markets and trash bins are also frequent sites where babies are abandoned.

"Access to CCTV (closed circuit television) in public areas and frequent patrols help identify high-risk locations," she told Bernama in a written reply.

However, resolving this issue requires more than surveillance. It calls for a shift in societal attitudes toward out-of-wedlock pregnancies and the provision of more comprehensive support for mothers in crisis.

Out-of-wedlock pregnancy: A burdened taboo

According to Siti Kamsiah, the stigma surrounding out-of-wedlock pregnancies is a root cause that drives some individuals to desperate and tragic actions.

"Stress, psychological pressure, and lack of emotional support can lead to irrational decisions, including abandoning a baby," she said.

Another contributing factor is the widespread exposure to pornographic and sexual content on social media, particularly among teenagers who lack comprehensive sex education. "PDRM supports initiatives like baby hatch centres, providing a safer alternative for mothers in crisis."

However, Siti Kamsiah emphasised that these centres were not intended to condone out-of-wedlock pregnancies or promiscuity.

"Pregnant women outside of wedlock are advised to seek counselling from NGOs, the Welfare Department (JKM), or government hospitals as an early intervention to prevent baby abandonment and to help them return to a lifestyle that aligns with religious and cultural values."

She further stressed that baby abandonment cases were classified as serious crimes under the Penal Code, with perpetrators facing strict legal actions, including lengthy imprisonment or fines.

A humanitarian solution

To address this issue, the baby hatch initiative is seen as a life-saving solution, providing abandoned babies with a second chance by offering individuals in distress a safer and more humane option.

A baby hatch is a designated space designed for mothers to leave their babies confidentially and safely. Equipped with detection systems, it alerts staff immediately when a baby is placed inside.

Rescued babies are then enrolled in adoption programmes, or sent to suitable institutions.

KPJ Seremban chief executive officer Nor Aidil Ikram Muhammad stressed that baby hatches should not be perceived as promoting immoral actions, but rather as a life-saving measure.

"Our focus is on saving babies without prejudice. What's most important is that these babies are not abandoned, but placed here safely," he said.

Since 2013, KPJ Seremban's baby hatch programme has saved 10 babies, including one diagnosed with the human immunodeficiency virus (HIV).

According to Nor Aidil Ikram, the babies that are rescued

A baby hatch is a special place where mothers who are unable to provide for themselves can leave their babies in privacy and safety.

will be sent to the hospital for health screenings before being handed over to JKJ, which will collaborate with the OrphanCare Foundation to ensure that the babies are placed with suitable foster families.

OrphanCare general manager Zakiah A. Rahman emphasised that addressing baby abandonment would require a comprehensive approach, rather than merely punitive measures.

"Society must come together to provide support and assistance to those facing unplanned pregnancies to prevent more tragic outcomes," she said.

Since its inception in 2008, OrphanCare has saved over 600 babies through its eight baby hatches across Malaysia.

The NGO also provides specialised support programmes for mothers facing unplanned pregnancies, guiding them from early pregnancy stages through postpartum care.

This includes opening medical records, prenatal and postnatal care, and providing baby essentials until the child turns one.

"We always advise these mothers to be realistic and

Nor Aidil Ikram stresses that baby hatches should not be perceived as promoting immoral actions, but rather, as a life-saving measure.

prioritise their child's welfare," Zakiah added.

Education, emotional support

Senior counselling lecturer at Universiti Sains Islam Malaysia (USIM), Dr Farhana Sabri, views the baby hatch initiative, which was initially misunderstood, as now proving to be beneficial in saving the lives of innocent babies.

However, the baby hatch is only part of the solution, as the more important aspect is to raise public awareness to prevent immoral actions that lead to such situations, according to her.

Looking ahead, Dr Farhana emphasised the importance of foster families fully committing to educating and providing emotional support to these children so that they are never seen or labelled as 'abandoned.' — Bernama

Enam bot PGPBTN 'ditelan' kepala air

Jerantut: Kejadian kepala air menenggelamkan enam bot milik ahli Peratuan Gabungan Perkhidmatan Bot Taman Negara (PGPBTN) Kuala Tahau di sini, semalam. Kejadian jam 9 malam kelmarin, menyebabkan lima bot berenjin dan sebuah bot tanpa enjin tenggelam sekelip mata. Seorang ahli PGPBTN, Ismaiza Zawawi berkata, dia dimaklumkan kejadian itu oleh rakannya sebulan dua sebelum berlaku. Menurutnya, perahu digunakan rakannya untuk menangkap ikan tenggelam akibat arus kepala air selain kenaikan paras Sungai Tembeling di sini.

"Saya terus bergegas ke sungai untuk melihat lokasi perahu ditambat. Saya terkejut melihat perahu tenggelam bersama enjin dan peralatan menangkap ikan.

"Perahu, enjin dan peralatan berkenaan yang tenggelam kemudian diangkat semula ke darat. Enjin bot yang diselamatkan bagaimanapun perlu dihantar untuk dibaiki berikutan dimasukinya air sungai," katanya.

DUA perahu antara yang tenggelam bersama enjin akibat kepala air di Sungai Tembeling berdekatan Kuala Tahau, Jerantut.

Kuantan: Maran menjadi daerah pertama di Pahang dilanda banjir gelombang kedua apabila seramai 45 mangsa dipindahkan ke empat Pusat Pemindahan Sementara (PPS) sejarus kawasan penempatan mereka ditenggelami banjir sejak malam kelmarin.

Sekretariat Jawatankuasa Pengurusan Bencana Pahang melaporkan, seramai 18 mangsa berada di PPS Tetap Luit manakala tujuh mangsa berada di PPS Kampung Baru Sungai Chedong, 15 mangsa di PPS Kampung Ulu Luit dan lima mangsa di Surau Bukit Kuin.

100 hektar kebun nanas tenggelam

Pekan: Hujan berterusan lebih 10 jam di daerah ini menyebabkan lebih 100 hektar kebun nanas di Kampung Baru Cenderawasih di sini, ditenggelami banjir.

Projek tanaman yang terletak dalam kawasan paya gambut menjadi antara faktor utama air mudah bertakung akibat hujan tanpa henti sejak malam kelmarin.

Pekebun, Abdul Halim Abd Latif, 39, berkata, banjir menenggelamkan kawasan kebun nanas sedalam lebih satu meter.

Katanya, setiap pekebun mengusahakan tanaman nanas seluas 1.5 hektar membabitkan tiga pering-

"Faktor lebih hujan

menyebabkan paras air bertambah di antara dua dan tiga kali ganda. Walaupun sistem perparitan disediakan, kejadian banjir tetap berlaku setiap tahun.

"Saya dan pekebun lain reda dengan apa yang berlaku apabila tiada rezeki kali ini. Boleh dikatakan hampir setiap tahun kebun kami ditenggelami banjir disebabkan berada dalam kawasan paya gambut," katanya di sini, semalam.

Beliau berkata, pokok nanas yang ditenggelami banjir dalam jangka panjang akan mati disebabkan batang yang mereput.

RM1k kepada 20 pemilik kenderaan dilanda banjir kilat

Kuala Lumpur: Sebanyak 20 pemilik kenderaan yang ditenggelami air dalam kejadian banjir kilat di Presint 11 Putrajaya pada Ahad lalu menerima bantuan RM1,000.

Menteri di Jabatan Perdana Menteri (Wilayah Persekutuan) Dr Zaliha Mustafa berkata, Perbadanan Putrajaya juga akan membuat parkir interim yang memuatkan kira-kira 200 kenderaan sebagai tindakan jangka pendek dan meminta pihak perbadanan menyelesaikannya dalam tempoh dua minggu. "Selain itu, saya minta Perbadanan Putrajaya menyediakan sistem amaran dengan penggunaan siren dan amaran kepada penduduk di kawasan itu untuk alihkan kenderaan dengan segera.

"Ini boleh dilaksanakan dengan menggunakan Internet of Things (IoT) iaitu sensor akan dipasang di petak penyelenggaraan saliran di seluruh Putrajaya untuk mengesan tahap ketinggian air," katanya dalam kenyataannya di Facebook, kelmarin.

In Gua Musang, Bernama reported that residents were urged to remain vigilant and evacuate to the nearest PPS if their area was flooded.

"We have observed an upward trend in the water levels of rivers in Gua Musang.

"If the rain continues throughout this evening (yesterday), more areas may get flooded.

"Disaster management agencies, including the police and Fire and Rescue Department, are on standby to help with evacuations at any moment."

Kuala Lumpur: Kewujudan Pusat Sehati Kanak-Kanak baharu di ibu negara mahu memberi fokus kepada perlindungan dan sokongan holistik untuk kanak-kanak serta remaja berisiko di negara ini.

Ketua Pegawai Eksekutif Yayasan Chow Kit (YCK) R Ananti berkata, inisiatif berkenaan diambil bertujuan membantu mereka yang hidup dalam persekitaran berisiko.

Menurutnya, pusat sehati ini menggunakan bangunan tiga tingkat yang dilengkapi dengan pelbagai fasiliti moden.

Katanya, ia mengandungi antaranya lapan bilik darjah, asrama pelindung, bilik simpanan, bilik rawatan, pejabat, ruang aktiviti dan 48 kamera litar tertutup (CCTV).

"Berdasarkan pengamatan, kebanyakan mereka (kanak-kanak dan remaja) yang tinggal di Chow Kit ini tinggal di bilik kecil di kawasan kedai, dengan fasiliti yang ada juga terhad.

"Bila ibu bapa keluar bekerja, anak-anak yang lebih tua diminta menjaga adik-adik, menjadikan mereka terdedah kepada pelbagai risiko.

"Mereka tidak sepatutnya dipanggil anak jalanan kerana ada rumah dan keluarga, namun faktor kemiskinan, kekurangan dokumen dan persekitaran tidak selamat menjadikan mereka golongan berisiko," katanya.

Beliau berkata demikian ketika ditemui selepas majlis perasmian Pusat Sehati Kanak-Kanak baharu di Jalan Belia, Chow Kit, di sini, baru-baru ini.

Ananti berkata, kanak-kanak di bawah jagaan YCK terdiri daripada pelbagai peringkat usia bermula dari bayi sehingga 18 tahun dengan seramai 120 orang kanak-kanak aktif menerima sokongan.

Menurutnya, pihaknya memberikan pendedahan positif kepada mereka selain turut menguruskan kes berkaitan kanak-kanak yang menghadapi penderaan, masalah dokumentasi, masalah kewangan dan banyak lagi.

"Masalah dokumentasi ini adalah salah satu kes yang sering kali kami hadapi, terutamanya bagi kanak-kanak yang tiada siji kelahiran.

"Ia berlaku akibat sikap tidak bertanggungjawab ibu bapa yang tidak mendaftarkan anak di Jabatan Pendaftaran Negara (JPN) sekali gus menyebabkan mereka tidak dapat bersekolah seperti kanak-kanak lain.

"Di YCK, kami berusaha membantu menguruskan mereka termasuk mendapatkan semula dokumen terutama siji kelahiran dengan mengesan rekod di hospital dan mencari saksi bagi tujuan proses pendaftaran," katanya.

'Selagi ada wanita, kanak-kanak dizalimi, perjuangan hak asasi takkan selesai' – Fadhlina

SHAH ALAM - Perjuangan hak asasi manusia tidak akan selesai selagi kisah keganasan rumah tangga dan penderaan melibatkan wanita serta kanak-kanak masih berlaku di negara ini.

Menteri Pendidikan, Fadhlina Sidek berkata, setiap orang berhak dilindungi daripada sebarang bentuk kekerasan, malah memelihara wanita dan kanak-kanak juga adalah perjuangan hak asasi kemanusiaan.

Beliau berkata, ia sama seperti mengimbas perjuangan hak asasi melalui Reformasi 1998 yang kini bukan sahaja berhasil dari segi menjana perubahan dalam politik, tetapi juga sosial, budaya dan sebagainya.

Fadhlina

"Meskipun perjuangan menuntut hak asasi dimulakan lebih awal, mata lebam Datuk Seri Anwar Ibrahim pada 1998 membuka mata saya dalam bab ini, selebihnya adalah sejarah.

"Namun, ia bukan kisah mata lebam pemimpin semata-mata, sebaliknya setiap manusia berhak dilindungi.

"Selagi ada wanita bermata lebam lantaran keganasan rumah tangga, menangis kerana dizalimi dan dinafikan hak, perjuangan tidak pernah selesai.

"Begitu juga kisah penderaan anak kecil yang masih memerlukan pembelaan dan perlindungan," katanya.

Beliau berkata demikian menerusi satu hantaran di Facebook pada Selasa sambil mengucapkan Selamat Menyambut Hari Hak Asasi Manusia setiap 10 Disember.

Fadhlina berpandangan, dalam memperjuangkan hak asasi manusia, orang ramai juga perlu konsisten mengecam tindakan rejim Zionis terhadap rakyat Palestin.

"Jangan sesekali kita lupa pembantaian rejim Zionis ke atas rakyat Palestin kerana ia penindasan terbesar hak asasi kemanusiaan," ujarinya.

Oleh KOSMO! 10 Disember 2024, 5:12 pm

Pengurusan jenazah Mr Wan Chai Official memandikan jasad bayi lelaki, Muhammad Adham Mikail selepas 16 hari disimpan dalam peti mayat sebuah hospital swasta.

PETALING JAYA – Satu mayat bayi lelaki didakwa 'ditahan' dalam peti mayat di sebuah hospital swasta dipercayai selepas bapanya tidak mempunyai wang untuk menuntut jenazah tersebut.

Kisah pilu itu dimuat naik pada Facebook pengurusan jenazah Islam Mr Wan Chai Official yang mengambil tanggungjawab untuk menguruskan jenazah bayi berkenaan.

"Kami menghadapi masalah sewaktu hendak menguruskan jenazah wildan syurga adik Muhammad Adham Mikail. Hancur luluh bila melihat jenazah anak tanpa dosa ini 100 peratus beku.

"Bayangkan bayi yang sudah meninggal dunia pada 24 November ditahan selama dua minggu dan diletakkan dalam peti sejuk.

"Perkara ini berlaku asbab si ayah tidak mampu membayar bil bagi caj kelahiran anaknya di sebuah hospital swasta," katanya pada hantaran tersebut.

Katanya, berdasarkan cerita si bapa, ibu bayi tersebut iaitu isterinya mengadu sakit sebelum dihantar oleh jirannya ke hospital swasta berkenaan.

"Ketika kejadian dia sedang bekerja dan bergegas ke hospital selepas dimaklumkan tentang keadaan isterinya," katanya.

Wan Chai memaklumkan, pihaknya terpaksa menggunakan air panas yang dicampur dengan air paip bagi melembutkan tubuh dan sendi mayat bayi tersebut.

Pada hantaran yang lain, lelaki itu memaklumkan, bukan sahaja jasad Muhammad Adham Mikail 'ditahan' selama 16 hari, tetapi ibunya juga tidak dibenarkan keluar dari wad sehingga bil dibayar si bapa pada pukul 11 pagi semalam.

"Ibu orang Melaka, ayah Negeri Sembilan, kejam. Ayahnya baru dapat kerja kilang Shah Alam dan masa bayi tu lahir, dia baru lima hari bekerja.

"Dalam diuji kehilangan anak, dia tetap berusaha cari duit untuk bayar bil walaupun lewat," katanya yang turut memberitahu bil tersebut berjumlah RM3,600 pada ruangan komen.

Dalam pada itu, Wan Chai berkata, bayi itu meninggal dunia selepas 30 minit dilahirkan kerana tidak cukup sifat iaitu hanya mempunyai satu mata, tiada hidung serta tiada saluran lubang najis. – KOSMO! ONLINE
