Don't be ashamed to report, Nancy tells male sexual harassment victims

KUCHING: There has been a noticeable rise in sexual harassment cases involving male victims particularly those aged 20 to 40, says Women, Family and Community Development Minister Dato Sri Nancy Shukri.

As such, she urged male victims to come forward and report incidents they have experienced to the Sexual Harassment Tribunal (TAGS) which began operations in March this year.

"Victims' courage is important. We want them to know they are not alone. Women are not the only victims of sexual harassment; men are also affected.

"It is important for all victims to step forward so justice can prevail," she told a press conference after the 'Zero Tolerance for Violence @ Sexual Harassment Advocacy' programme at Universiti Malaysia Sarawak in Kota Samarahan yesterday.

She emphasised that societal stigma often deters men from reporting sexual harassment.

In this regard, Nancy said TAGS provides a platform for victims to seek justice without fear or shame.

To date, the tribunal has handled 25 cases including one in Sri Aman, which was resolved with RM28,000 in compensation awarded to the victim.

"Each case is unique, and the outcomes vary depending on the evidence and circumstances.

"Some cases are resolved through an apology, while others result in compensation or counselling," she said.

Nancy said statistics from the police also show a rise in sexual harassment cases, with 666 incidents reported as of October this year, compared to 522 cases in 2023, which is a 9.4 per cent increase.

She added that in Sarawak, 12 cases have been recorded this year.

KOTA SAMARAHAN (Dec 12): The Ministry of Women, Family, and Community Development (KPWK) does not intend to interfere in the investigation of the case involving the body of an infant reportedly frozen at a private hospital in Selangor that has recently gone viral.

Its minister Dato Sri Nancy Shukri stated that the case is not under her ministry's jurisdiction and her department does not wish to intervene in matters beyond their authority.

"I have read about this case in the media but I am unsure of the actual circumstances, so let the police conduct their investigation.

"Our (the ministry) actions are limited to cases related to our scope, and in this instance, we cannot intervene," she said.

She was speaking at a press conference after the Zero Tolerance for Violence @ Sexual Harassment Advocacy programme, at Universiti Malaysia Sarawak (Unimas) today.

According to viral social media posts recently, the infant's body was allegedly kept in the private hospital's freezer for two weeks because the parents could not afford the delivery fees.

Following the viral posts, the hospital authorities clarified that they had issued a burial permit to enable the child's body to be laid to rest the day after birth.

However, they claimed that the mother delayed the burial process to await her husband's arrival.

Meanwhile, Health Minister Datuk Seri Dr Dzulkefly Ahmad urged the public to remain calm as the Ministry of Health (MOH) and the Private Medical Practice Control Branch (CKAPS) investigate the matter.

During a press conference at the Dewan Rakyat on Wednesday, Dr Dzulkefly also extended condolences to the family and urged the public to avoid making assumptions about the case.

KPWKM serius tangani isu keganasan, gangguan seksual: Nancy

KUCHING: Kementerian Pembangunan Wanita, Keluarga dan Masyarakat (KPWK) serius dalam menangani isu keganasan dan gangguan seksual dalam kalangan masyarakat tanpa mengira gender, umur dan status sosial.

Menterinya Dato Sri Nancy Shukri berkata, bagi tujuan itu kementerian telah menubuhkan Tribunal Antigungguan Seksual (TAGS) bagi mendengar kes berkaitan gangguan seksual.

"Tribunal ini baru beroperasi pada bulan Mac lepas dan dalam tempoh singkat ini, sudah ada 25 kes difailkan di TAGS dengan satu aduan dibatalkan kerana responden meninggal dunia dan empat aduan ditolak kerana tiada bukti.

"Di Sarawak, kita sudah ada satu kes di Sri Aman dan sudah ada keputusan (5 Disember), mangsa meminta permohonan maaf daripada responden dan dibayar tebus rugi RM28,000 serta khidmat kaunseling.

"Lain kes lain hukumannya, ada yang minta permohonan maaf sahaja, ada juga yang ditolak bergantung kepada bukti dan 25 kes ini bagi kami masih lagi tidak cukup dan kita perlu ke luar sana, pertama untuk memberi penerangan dan kedua, untuk memberi lebih keyakinan kepada mereka yang menjadi mangsa," ujarnya.

Nancy turut menasihatkan mangsa keganasan dan gangguan seksual sama ada wanita mahupun lelaki agar tidak takut dan tampil untuk memfailkan aduan kepada TAGS.

Kes yang difailkan di TAGS kata Nancy, lebih kepada memberi pengajaran dan membantu mangsa untuk mendapat tebus rugi sama ada dalam bentuk wang ringgit ataupun permohonan maaf.

"Sebab itu, kita mahu mangsa sama ada wanita mahupun lelaki tampil untuk melaporkan kes di TAGS supaya kita dapat membantu mereka," katanya.

Selain TAGS menurut Nancy, kementerian juga giat mengadakan program advokasi di seluruh negara bagi memberi kesedaran kepada masyarakat mengenai keganasan dan gangguan seksual.

Terdahulu pada sesi bual bicara sempena program itu, Nancy turut mengupas isu-isu berkaitan keganasan dan gangguan seksual serta langkah-langkah yang diambil kementerian untuk menanganinya.

Katanya, gangguan seksual bukan isu baharu, tetapi masalah global yang memberi kesan mendalam kepada mangsa dan kesejahteraan masyarakat tanpa mengira gender, umur ataupun status sosial.

Sehingga Oktober 2024 katanya, sebanyak 666 kes keganasan dan gangguan seksual dilaporkan, meningkat 27.5 peratus berbanding 522 kes pada 2023, dan Sarawak mencatatkan 12 kes pada 2024.

Pengisian lain pada program tersebut ialah Advokasi Antigungguan Sosial, Kenali TAGS, Jauhi Buli Siber, Sesi Energizer dan Pusat Sokongan Sosial Setempat (PSSS) Yayasan Kebajikan Negara (YKN).

Govt putting in place stronger child safeguards

THE government is planning to impose harsher penalties and introduce more comprehensive provisions under the Child Act 2001 to better safeguard minors against abuse and sexual crimes, says Datuk Seri Saifuddin Nasution Ismail.

The Home Minister said the proposed amendments are meant to protect children from various forms of abuse, amid growing concerns over child safety following recent cases such as Global Ikhwan Sdn Bhd Holdings (GISB) and the “Abang Bas” incident on TikTok.

“These improvements aim to close any legal loopholes and ensure broader protection for children from various forms of abuse, including technological and cyber-related issues.

“The provisions related to punishment, especially for guardians responsible for neglect or physical, emotional or sexual abuse of children, will also be tightened,” he said in a parliamentary written reply.

Saifuddin Nasution was responding to Oscar Ling Chai Yew (PH-Sibu) who had asked about the government’s plan to improve enforcement of the Act to curb recurrence of such cases.

Other key measures include the establishment of Special Courts for Sexual Crimes Against Children nationwide, designed to handle cases more sensitively and expedite the trial process, thus reducing trauma for child victims.

“The government also aims to empower the Welfare Department with more trained officers to identify early signs of child abuse, especially in institutions like shelters and schools,” Saifuddin Nasution said.

The minister also said the government intends to tighten child protection policies in educational and care institutions, ensuring staff and guardians are trained to identify and handle abuse or violence cases.

“Closer cooperation with enforcement agencies and NGOs will strengthen the reporting process, evidence collection and early action against suspects, ensuring immediate assistance to victims,” he said.

He added that children’s self-protection education programme in schools will be expanded, focusing on educating children about their rights, personal safety and how to recognise and report suspicious or dangerous situations.

On a related matter, Deputy Women, Family and Community Development Minister Datuk Seri Dr Noraini Ahmad said amendments to the Childcare Centre Act 1984 (Act 308) are expected to be tabled next year.

She said the ministry, through the Welfare Department, is actively reviewing the Act to ensure it meets current needs and standards.

“A special project team has been appointed. Among them are experts and members knowledgeable in matters related to childcare centres (taska).

“A coordination meeting was held regarding the current status of the review,” she said in her reply to Datuk Siti Zailah Mohd Yusoff (PN-Rantau Panjang).

Noraini said a focus group discussion workshop on amendments to the Child Act and Act 308 was also held, involving officers directly engaged in child case management.

“The involvement of industry stakeholders was sought to ensure the review is comprehensive and not solely from the perspective of the enforcers.

“A public survey was also conducted to ensure the involvement of the general public.

“Input from engagement sessions that will be explored include introducing new childcare centre categories like taska for disabled children, mobile caregivers, implementing an electronic registration system, reducing bureaucracy and streamlining the appointment of enforcement officers and technical agencies,” she said.

Kuala Lumpur: Kementerian Pembangunan Wanita, Keluarga dan Masyarakat (KPWK) memaklumkan wujud cadangan untuk meminda hukuman denda membabitkan kes penderaan kanak-kanak orang kurang upaya (OKU) daripada RM10,000 kepada RM100,000.

Timbalan Menteri, Datuk Seri Dr Noraini Ahmad bagaimanapun berkata, buat masa ini, ia di peringkat cadangan dan belum diluluskan selain libat urus dengan pemegang taruh juga diadakan daripada semasa ke semasa.

“Dalam pindaan yang telah dicadangkan terutama berkaitan kanak-kanak

OKU ini, ada diperuntukkan satu pindaan yang sesuai dan hukuman sedia ada sebanyak RM10,000 denda dan dua tahun penjara.

“Itu juga ada cadangan untuk dinaikkan kepada RM100,000,” katanya sewaktu pertanyaan menteri di Dewan Rakyat, semalam.

Beliau berkata demikian menjawab pertanyaan tambahan Datuk Siti Zailah Mohd Yusoff (PN-Rantau Panjang) mengenai adakah wujudnya cadangan untuk mengenakan hukuman lebih berat termasuk penggantungan lesen operasi kepada pusat jagaan yang melanggar peraturan.

Selain daripada itu, Siti Zailah juga turut bertanya mengenai insentif yang disediakan kepada pengusaha taska bagi membantu mereka daripada segi kos operasi yang semakin tinggi.

Mengulas lanjut, Noraini memaklumkan dari segi bantuan kepada pengusaha taska, sebanyak RM10 juta diperuntukkan di dalam belanjawan.

“Antaranya adalah untuk memudahkan cara proses pendaftaran tetapi ia di bawah Kementerian Kewangan, tapi kita dimaklumkan bahawa tak ada tak yang ambil dana ini,” katanya.

Sexual abuse	195	2,328	111	1,149
Emotional abuse	38	71	26	57
Total	1,243	3,226	631	1,609
Overall total	4,469		2,240

Source: Dewan Rakyat written reply on November 27, 2024 by the Minister of Women, Family and Community Development to Question Number 27.

KUALA LUMPUR, Dec 12 – In 2023, the Social Welfare Department (JKM) recorded a total of 4,469 child abuse cases. As of August this year, 2,240 child abuse cases were recorded by JKJ.

These figures were provided by the Minister of Women, Family and Community Development (KPWKJ), Nancy Shukri, in a written parliamentary reply on November 27.

She was responding to Ledang MP Syed Ibrahim Syed Noh, who asked for figures and statistics of sexual and abuse cases involving children for 2023 and 2024.

Based on case handled by JKJ, child abuse cases are divided into three categories, namely physical, sexual and emotional abuse, Nancy said.

She provided the breakdown of abuse categories and number of victims according to gender in the table above.

In both 2023 and until August 2024, girls made up the overwhelming majority of sexual abuse victims constituting 92.3 per cent and 91.2 per cent of cases respectively.

Girls also made up the bulk of emotional abuse cases, comprising 65.1 per cent of cases in 2023 and 68.7 per cent of cases this year as of August.

However, boys outnumbered girls when it came to physical abuse cases, with male victims making up about 55 per cent of cases in both 2023 and until August this year.

Meanwhile, according to statistics provided by the Royal Malaysian Police (PDRM), the total number of sexual crime cases involving children in 2023 was 5,401 cases.

PDRM recorded a total of 2,059 sexual crime cases against children from January to April this year.

Sexual crimes involving children are divided into fourteen categories including rape, gang rape, incest, molestation, behaving obscenely, spying, unnatural sex, child pornography, sexual communication with children, child grooming, meeting after grooming, non-consensual physical sex, non-consensual non-physical sex, and offences under Section 292 of the Penal Code, (distribution of obscene and pornographic materials, etc).

Nancy said one of the ways her ministry was addressing the problem was through its KASIH Kanak-Kanak (LOVE children) programme.

The objective of the programme, which began in 2023, is to spread awareness and advocate for child protection.

“The programme is not only aimed at children but also involves parents, teachers and the entire community. Among the contents of this programme is an interactive lecture session on children’s rights by JKJ and child safety by PDRM, an interactive talk on cyber bullying by the Malaysian Communications and Multimedia Commission (MCMC), and an interactive talk on anti-sexual harassment by the Women’s Development Department (JPW).

“As of November 5, 2024, the KASIH Kanak-Kanak programme has been implemented in 327 schools nationwide involving 174,079 participants,” Nancy said.

TONE :	NEUTRAL	SEKTOR :	KPWKM

Warning on the perils of digital babysitting

I REFER to the report “New National Children’s Policy unveils to champion protection, growth and participation, says Nancy” (The Star, Nov 24).

Kudos to the Women, Family and Community Development Ministry (WFCDM) and the Social Welfare Department (SWD) on the timely updating of the policy to respond to new challenges faced by children in the changing environment.

The eighth strategic thrust of the new National Children’s Policy (NCP) aims to ensure safe usage of the Internet by children to protect them from violence, exploitation, cyberbullying and neglect.

It states that in 2020, Internet usage among children aged five to 17 years old increased to 47% compared to 28.5% in 2018. But in 2020, parental control was low as only 34.4% of parents monitored their children’s Internet usage.

Meanwhile, the 15th strategic thrust calls for efforts to close the disparity in access to the Internet between rural and urban areas. According to the Communication and Multimedia Commission (MCMC), Internet penetration in urban areas is 92.4% compared to 79.4% in rural areas.

MCMC also estimated that about 47% of children aged seven to 17 years old access the Internet, and 97.6% used smartphones to do so.

Jonathan Haidt, author of the book The Anxious Generation, which inspired the Australian government to ban children below the age of 16 from social media, highlights that digital technology, smartphone and social media are replacing the play-based childhood with phone-based childhood.

Play-based childhood revolves around children growing up in the “real world” at home (family institution), playing with friends in school and interacting with the community. These institutions are integral in creating the framework that supports the emotional and cultural needs of children while they grow and develop as members of their community and nation. It is within this framework that the socialisation and cognitive development of children takes place.

Internet-based activities may cause children to suffer mental illness and anxiety due to social deprivation, lack of sleep, addiction, isolation and cyber harassment.

Sadly, phone-based childhood is exacerbated by the current practice of digital babysitting where digital devices such as laptops, tablets and smartphones are used to occupy and entertain children for extended periods of time.

Digital babysitting can have negative impacts on the development of children as they spend too much time with their digital devices, limiting their interaction with the people around them.

Therefore, the new policy must take into account the need to educate parents and create awareness on the danger of digital babysitting. There is no substitute for parenting based on parents-children interaction, which creates bonding and close family relationships.

It will be the key determinant in the development of both the cognitive and social skills as well as behavioural patterns of children.

In contrast, phone-based childhood means growing up in a virtual world where children spend less time socialising as they are preoccupied with accessing social media, online video games and Internet-based interaction with others, including strangers.

In the virtual world, children are exposed to the risk of being bullied, falling prey to sexual predators or indoctrinated by extremist ideology.

Tambah baik pendidikan seks kebangsaan

Kuala Lumpur: Jawatankuasa Pilihan Khas (JKPK) Hal Ehwal Wanita, Kanak-Kanak dan Pembangunan Masyarakat menekankan keperluan mendesak untuk menambah baik silibus pendidikan seks kebangsaan dengan memasukkan implikasi undang-undang berkaitan bagi individu bawah umur yang melakukan hubungan seks.

Pengerusi jawatankuasa itu, Yeo Bee Yin, berkata ini kerana masih wujud ibu bapa termasuk anak mereka di bawah umur langsung tidak cakna atau mengetahui kewujudan kesalahan di bawah Kanun Keseksaan, khususnya sekiranya anak mereka melakukan seks di bawah umur.

Beliau menggesa Kementerian Pendidikan (KPM) menambah baik Garis Panduan Pendidikan Kesihatan Reproduksi dan Sosial (PEERS) bagi memastikan ibu bapa dan anak mereka yang masih di bawah umur memahami undang-undang berkaitan.

Kuala Lumpur: Seramai 736,607 orang atau 2.2 peratus daripada penduduk Malaysia berdaftar dengan Jabatan Kebajikan Malaysia (JKM) sebagai orang kurang upaya (OKU), tahun lalu.

Katanya, bidang sukan adalah statistik baharu yang diterbitkan pada penerbitan tahun ini.

"Ketersediaan statistik OKU boleh digunakan sebagai input dalam menambah baik perancangan dan penggubalan polisi atau dasar berkaitan OKU oleh kerajaan dan pemegang taruh lain.

"Daripada jumlah keseluruhan 736,607 OKU yang berdaftar dengan JKJ, 265,503 adalah yang mempunyai masalah pembelajaran, sekali gus tertinggi berbanding kategori lain serta diikuti 265,221 berdaftar di bawah kategori fizikal dan penglihatan (63,779 orang).

"Kategori pertuturan mencatatkan pendaftaran terendah iaitu seramai 3,846 orang manakala 174,916 warga emas didaftarkan sebagai OKU iaitu peningkatan 13.1 peratus berbanding tahun sebelumnya," katanya dalam kenyataan, hari ini.

Menurutnya, bilangan atlet paralimpik meningkat 18.3 peratus pada 2023 kepada 71 orang berbanding 60 orang tahun sebelumnya.

"Majoriti atlet paralimpik adalah lelaki iaitu seramai 58 orang berbanding 13 orang perempuan.

"Dari segi jenis sukan, olahraga mencatatkan bilangan atlet tertinggi iaitu seramai 30 orang diikuti renang (10 orang) dan boccia (sembilan orang)," katanya.

Katanya, bilangan OKU yang menerima rawatan kesihatan pada 2023 meningkat 15.5 peratus kepada 4,551 orang berbanding 3,940 orang pada 2022.

"OKU yang mempunyai masalah pembelajaran mencatatkan bilangan tertinggi yang mendapatkan rawatan kesihatan iaitu 85.9 peratus diikuti kategori fizikal (8.6 peratus) dan pertuturan (2.8 peratus).

"Kementerian Kesihatan (KKM) merekodkan 831 bayi berusia kurang setahun yang dikesan mempunyai ketidakupayaan pada 2023, selain 1,453 kanak-kanak berusia 18 bulan disyaki mempunyai autisme pada tahun sama," katanya.

Mohd Uzir berkata, sebanyak 34 sekolah pendidikan khas direkodkan pada 2023, terdiri daripada 20 sekolah rendah dan enam sekolah menengah.

"Jumlah guru sekolah pendidikan khas di peringkat rendah pada 2023 menurun 1.0 peratus kepada 826 guru manakala bilangan guru sekolah pendidikan khas di peringkat menengah pula meningkat 2.4 peratus kepada 473 guru dalam tempoh sama.

"Bilangan murid sekolah pendidikan khas di peringkat rendah dan menengah juga merekodkan peningkatan pada 2023 masing-masing 17.5 peratus dan 0.9 peratus kepada 1,736 murid dan 1,055 murid," katanya.

Bellau berkata, seramai 3,856 penjawat awam OKU yang berkhidmat pada 2023, meningkat 3.5 peratus berbanding 3,724 orang pada 2022.

"Kategori fizikal mencatatkan peratus tertinggi iaitu 65.2 peratus pada 2023, diikuti kategori penglihatan (20.4 peratus) dan pendengaran (8.7 peratus).

"Berdasarkan kumpulan perkhidmatan, majoriti penjawat awam OKU iaitu 66.3 peratus berkhidmat di bawah kumpulan pelaksana diikuti kumpulan pengurusan dan profesional (33.5 peratus) dan pengurusan tertinggi (0.2 peratus).

Katanya, seramai 761 OKU menghuni di Taman Sinar Harapan pada 2023 dan 96 OKU berdaftar sebagai pelatih di Bengkel Daya pada tahun sama Pusat Latihan Perindustrian dan Pemulihan menerima 11 orang pelatih OKU pada 2023 untuk pelbagai skim latihan.

Pindaan Akta Kanak-Kanak 2001 elak kes GISBH berulang

Penambahbaikan antara usaha kerajaan pastikan perlindungan lebih meluas

Oleh Fahmy A Rosli
fahmy.azril@bh.com.my

Kuala Lumpur: Penambahbaikan Akta Kanak-Kanak 2001 melalui pindaan undang-undang lebih tegas dan menyeluruh antara usaha meningkatkan penguatkuasaan bagi mengekang berulangnya kes seperti GISB Holdings (GISBH) dan Abang Bas dalam TikTok.

Menteri Dalam Negeri, Datuk Seri Saifuddin Nasution Ismail, berkata penambahbaikan itu antara lain bertujuan untuk menutup sebarang kelemahan undang-undang dan memastikan perlindungan lebih luas bagi kanak-kanak daripada pelbagai bentuk penderaan.

Katanya, usaha itu turut mencakupi langkah bagi memberi perlindungan kepada kanak-kanak berkaitan teknologi dan dunia siber.

Selain itu, Saifuddin berkata, kerajaan bercadang menubuhkan lebih banyak Mahkamah Khas Kanak-Kanak, termasuk memperluas penubuhan Mahkamah Khas Jenayah Seksual Terhadap Kanak-Kanak.

Beliau menjelaskan, mahkamah khas itu direka untuk menangani kes jenayah terhadap kanak-kanak secara lebih sensitif dan mesra kanak-kanak, serta mempercepat proses perbicaraan.

Tingkat penguatkuasaan

Pada sama sama, Saifuddin berkata, kerajaan juga memantapkan aspek penguatkuasaan pada peringkat tempatan kerajaan menerusi pemerkasaan Jabatan Kebajikan Masyarakat (JKM).

Katanya, lebih ramai pegawai terlatih dalam mengenal pasti tanda awal penderaan kanak-kanak, khususnya dalam institusi seperti rumah perlindungan dan sekolah.

Selepas ini, katanya, setiap institusi perlu memastikan terdapat pegawai perlindungan kanak-kanak yang bertanggungjawab untuk memantau dan melaporkan sebarang kes penderaan atau pengabaian golongan itu.

“Peningkatan pemantauan oleh agensi seperti Polis Diraja Malaysia (PDRM) dan JKM terhadap institusi yang menjaga kanak-kanak juga akan dipertingkatkan melalui lawatan berkala dan penyiasatan lebih teliti.

Saifuddin berkata, kerajaan turut melaksanakan polisi perlindungan kanak-kanak di institusi pendidikan dan jagaan.

Kes dera anak punca ramai wanita berhenti kerja

December 12, 2024

Dato' Siti Zailah Mohd Yusoff

KUALA LUMPUR: Peningkatan kes penderaan dan penganiayaan kanak-kanak di pusat jagaan membimbangkan ramai ibu bapa sehingga ada yang terpaksa berhenti kerja demi keselamatan anak-anak.

Dato' Siti Zailah Mohd Yusoff (PN-Rantau Panjang) berkata, isu keselamatan kanak-kanak di pusat jagaan perlu diberi perhatian oleh kerajaan untuk memperkenalkan hukuman lebih berat terhadap pusat jagaan yang melanggar peraturan.

"Apakah pindaan ini mencadangkan supaya hukuman yang lebih berat dikenakan termasuk pergantungan lesen operasi kepada pusat jagaan yang melanggar peraturan?"

"Selain itu, apakah insentif yang disediakan kepada pengusaha taska, komuniti dan swasta supaya dapat membantu mereka dalam mengatasi masalah dan kos operasi semakin tinggi apabila syarat gaji minima baru yang telah disyaratkan kerajaan," katanya.

Timbalan Menteri Pembangunan Wanita, Keluarga dan Masyarakat, Datuk Seri Dr Noraini Ahmad, berkata hukuman sedia ada sebanyak RM10,000 denda dan dua tahun penjara akan dicadangkan naik kepada RM100,000.

"Bila ada kes penderaan kebiasaannya pengasuh yang akan dikenakan tindakan, manakala pengusaha taska terlepas daripada sebarang tindakan," katanya.

DIDAKWA NODA ANAK TIRI

Muar

Mahkamah Sesyen di sini, semalam memerintahkan seorang mekanik membela diri atas pertuduhan merogol anak tirinya ketika isteri keluar menghantar seorang lagi anak ke sekolah di Kluang, dua tahun lalu.

Hakim Sayani Mohd Nor membuat keputusan itu selepas mahkamah mendapati pihak pendakwaan berjaya membuktikan kes prima facie yang dikemukakan terhadap tertuduh.

Ketika membaca keputusan akhir pendakwaan, Sayani berkata, keputusan itu dibuat selepas meneliti keterangan saksi pendakwaan dan juga eksibit dikemukakan oleh pihak pendakwa dan juga pembelaan sepanjang perbicaraan ini.

"Maka pada tahap penilaian secara maksimum, mahkamah memutuskan bahawa pihak pendakwa raya berjaya membuktikan kes prima facie terhadap per-tuduhan yang dikenakan ke atas tertuduh.

"Justeru, mahkamah memutuskan tertuduh diarah membela diri," hujahnya.

Sepanjang perbicaraan berlangsung, pihak pendakwaan diketuai Timbalan Pendakwa Raya, Danial Munir telah mengemukakan lima saksi untuk memberi keterangan termasuk mangsa dan ibunya.

Mengikut pertuduhan, dia didakwa merogol anak tirinya berusia 12 tahun ketika kejadian di sebuah rumah di Simpang Renggam, Kluang, 7 pagi, 8 Ogos 2022.

Berikutan itu, tertuduh didakwa mengikut Seksyen 376 (3) Kanun Keseksaan dengan penjara sehingga 30 tahun dan sebatan tidak kurang 10 kali.

Berdasarkan laporan dibuat, pada hari kejadian mangsa bersendirian di rumah manakala ibunya keluar menghantar adiknya ke sekolah.

Tertuduh memasuki bilik mangsa hanya dengan memakai seluar pendek sebelum keluar namun lelaki itu kembali dengan hanya memakai tuala.

Mangsa juga ditunjukkan video lucah sebelum tertuduh melakukan perbuatan itu terhadapnya.

Perbuatan itu terbongkar apabila mangsa menceritakan kepada ibunya sebelum mereka membuat laporan di Balai Polis Simpang Renggam seminggu selepas kejadian itu.

Dengan keputusan itu, peguam tertuduh, Datuk Mandave Singh Gill memberitahu mahkamah anak guamnya akan memberi keterangan secara bersumpah dari kandang saksi.

Jelasnya, pihak pembelaan juga akan mengemukakan dua saksi sepanjang prosiding pembelaan yang kemudiannya ditetapkan pada 4 Februari ini.

Bila kamu akad nikah dengan ibunya, itu tanda kamu terima dia dan juga anaknya.

"Bukan melakukan perkara ini (amang seksual)," kata Hakim Mahkamah Sesyen, Abu Bakar Manat sebelum menjatuhkan hukuman penjara enam tahun serta dua sebatan terhadap seorang lelaki selepas didapati bersalah mencabul kehormatan anak tirinya, lima tahun lalu.

Keputusan itu dibuat selepas Mahkamah Majistret di sini, semalam, mendapati pihak pembelaan gagal menimbulkan keraguan munasabah terhadap tertuduh berusia 56 tahun sekali gus mensabitkan kesalahan dilakukannya.

Dalam penghakiman itu, Abu Bakar berkata, mahkamah juga membaca, menilai dan meneliti keterangan pembelaan tertuduh yang diberikan melalui kandang saksi dan juga keterangan tambahan secara lisan serta bersumpah selain pemeriksaan balas daripada pihak pendakwa.

"Atas penilaian maksimum, mahkamah berpendapat tertuduh juga gagal menimbulkan keraguan munasabah dalam kes ini dan keterangan pembelaan oleh tertuduh adalah bersifat penafian tanpa tidak disokong oleh fakta dan keterangan munasabah.

"Berdasarkan pandangan mahkamah, keterangan khususnya saksi pendakwaan pertama yang juga saksi mata dan mangsa adalah konsisten.

Tertuduh yang juga seorang petani, baru baru ini terbabit dalam kemalangan didakwa melakukan amang seksual terhadap anak tirinya berusia 11 tahun ketika itu.

Kejadian berlaku pada 2019 iaitu sekitar jam 9.30 malam di sebuah rumah di Parit Jawa, di sini.

Dia didakwa melakukan kesalahan mengikut Seksyen 14 (a) Akta Kesalahan-Kesalahan Seksual Terhadap Kanak-Kanak 2017 yang dibaca bersama Seksyen 16 akta sama.

Hukuman penjara sehingga 20 tahun serta sebatan manakala tambahan hukuman bagi Seksyen 16 pula ialah penjara lima tahun dan dua sebatan.

April lalu, mahkamah sama memerintahkan tertuduh membela diri selepas mendapati pihak pendakwaan berjaya membuktikan kes prima facie.

Sejurus menjatuhkan hukuman itu, pihak pembelaan bangun memohon penangguhan hukuman atas permintaan anak guamnya untuk memfaikkan rayuan di Mahkamah Tinggi Muar.

"Mahkamah berpendapat tertuduh gagal timbulkan keraguan munasabah Abu Bakar"

Teacher charged with committing physical sexual assault on student

IPOH: A co-curricular senior assistant teacher pleaded not guilty in the Sessions Court yesterday to two counts of committing physical sexual assault on a female student at a vernacular school here.

On the first count, Teh Chau Teik, 37, was charged with hugging the 12-year-old girl from behind and kissing her in a classroom at 6.40am on Sept 11, 2024.

He was also charged with committing a similar act on the same girl in another classroom at the school at 6.40am on Sept 26, 2024.

The charges were framed under Section 14(a) of the Sexual Offences Against Children

Act 2017, which provides imprisonment for up to 20 years and whipping upon conviction, and also under Section 16 of the same Act which provides imprisonment for up to five years and no less than two strokes of the cane, upon conviction.

Judge Jean Sharmila Jesudason set bail at RM7,000 and ordered Teh to report himself at a police station once a month and not to intimidate the witness.

She set Jan 17, 2025 for mention.

The prosecution was conducted by Deputy Public Prosecutor Qurratu'aini Khalifah, while lawyer S. Teeban Kumar represented Teh. — Bernama

Senior teacher charged with sexual abuse of schoolgirl

IPOH: A senior assistant co-curricular teacher at a primary school has been charged at the Sessions Court here with sexually harassing a 12-year-old pupil three months ago.

The 37-year-old pleaded not guilty to two charges before judge Jean Sharmila Jesudason yesterday.

For the first charge, he is accused of having performed physical sexual abuse by hugging the girl from behind and kissing her on the mouth at 6.40am on Sept 11 at a classroom in a Chinese primary school.

For the second charge, he is said to have hugged and kissed the victim on the mouth at a different classroom at 6.40am on Sept 26.

For both charges, the teacher was charged under Section 14(a) of the Sexual Offences Against Children Act 2017.

This carries a maximum penalty of 20 years' jail and whipping, if convicted.

The charges against the accused were also framed under Section 16 of the Sexual Offences Against Children Act 2017, which stipulates an additional penalty of up to five years' imprisonment and no fewer than two strokes of the rotan upon conviction.

During proceedings, deputy public prosecutor Qurratu'aini Khalifah proposed bail of not lower than RM50,000 for the accused, with additional conditions deemed appropriate by the court.

However, lawyer S. Teeban Kumar, representing the accused, requested the court allow minimum bail on the grounds that his client, who earns RM7,000 a month, needs to support his mother and three younger siblings.

The court then allowed bail of RM7,000 with one surety, and asked the accused to report to the police station every month and to stay away from the victim until the case is completed.

The court then fixed Jan 17 for mention.
