544,151 terima bantuan JKM, peruntukan berjumlah RM1.95 bilion

Oleh Afiq Mohd. Shah - December 13, 2024

Menteri Pembangunan Wanita, Keluarga dan Masyarakat, Datuk Seri Nancy Shukri GAMBAR: Abd Razak Aid

SERAMAI 544,151 individu menerima bantuan daripada Jabatan Kebajikan Masyarakat (JKM) di seluruh negara sehingga September lalu dengan peruntukan yang telah dibelanjakan sebanyak RM1.95 bilion.

Menteri Pembangunan Wanita, Keluarga dan Masyarakat, Datuk Seri Nancy Shukri memaklumkan, peruntukan kepada JKM akan ditambah kepada RM2.98 bilion mengambil kira kenaikan beberapa kadar bantuan bermula tahun hadapan.

Menurut beliau, ia merupakan kenaikan sebanyak 14.74 peratus berbanding peruntukan yang diterima pada tahun ini.

"Kementerian Pembangunan Wanita, Keluarga dan Masyarakat (KPWK) melalui JKM menyediakan bantuan kewangan kebajikan untuk membantu kelangsungan hidup dan meringankan beban kumpulan sasar yang layak dan memerlukan.

"Bantuan ini bersifat sementara waktu sehingga mereka keluar daripada kemiskinan dan hidup berdikari.

"Berdasarkan rekod JKM, bagi tempoh 2022 hingga Ogos 2024, sebanyak 394,655 permohonan bantuan telah diterima.

Menjawab persoalan Halimah sama ada JKM bersedia meningkatkan kadar bantuan bulanan bagi pemohon yang layak, Nancy menjelaskan, kerajaan telah menaikkan kadar bantuan serta syarat kelayakan pendapatan yang akan berkuatkuasa mulai Januari depan semasa pembentangan Belanjawan 2025.

Beliau berkata, sebanyak lima skim bantuan terlibat iaitu Bantuan Kanak-Kanak (BKK) kepada RM250 seorang kanak-kanak dengan kadar maksimum RM1,000 sebulan bagi satu keluarga.

Selain itu, Nancy berkata, Bantuan Warga Emas (BWE) turut dinaikkan kepada RM600 sebulan; Bantuan Am Persekutuan kepada RM500 sebulan; syarat kelayakan pendapatan isi rumah untuk Bantuan Penjagaan Orang Kurang Upaya (OKU) Terlantar atau Pesakit Kronik Terlantar dan Elaun Pekerja OKU juga meningkat masing-masing kepada RM5,000 dan RM1,700 sebulan.

"Pada masa ini, Pendapatan Garis Kemiskinan (PGK) 2022 RM1,198 dan Perkapita RM322 yang dibentangkan dalam Belanjawan 2024 masih digunakan sebagai syarat asas kelayakan permohonan bantuan JKM.

"Walaupun begitu, PGK bukanlah syarat kelayakan tunggal untuk mendapatkan bantuan kewangan kebajikan menerusi JKM.

"Beberapa aspek lain turut diambil kira dalam menentu dan membuat penilaian kelayakan seseorang itu berdasarkan siasatan kes yang dijalankan oleh pegawai JKM melalui pendekatan kerja sosial," katanya.

Women as nation-builders: Driving equality and empowerment

Nancy stressed the need to overcome significant gender disparities by fostering societal understanding that women's contributions extended far beyond raising the next generation.

KUALA LUMPUR – Equal participation in education, health, business, technology, governance and other sectors is key to empowering women as contributors to Malaysia's nation-building.

Women work alongside men to shape the nation's socio-economic, political and cultural landscapes.

Women, Family and Community Development Minister Datuk Seri Nancy Shukri said while female leaders remained few for now, their perspectives were critical to fostering inclusive and diverse governance systems in Malaysia.

"Despite some progress, such as achieving one of the highest global rankings for female education attainment, significant gender gaps persist.

"For every RM100 billion earned by men, women earn only 66.67 per cent. In governance, female ministers represent just 16.1 per cent of our candidates.

"I am one of only five women among 31 candidates and while we have a slightly higher proportion of female deputy ministers at 37.6 per cent, only 13.5 per cent of the Dewan Rakyat members are women.

"There are currently only two female secretary-generals in the civil service," she said during the Malaysia Women and Girls Forum (MWGF) 2024, yesterday.

The forum which was livestreamed on Facebook and YouTube addressed critical topics such as gender equality, female empowerment, representation in public life and overcoming societal stereotypes and structural challenges.

Nancy said as women represent nearly half of Malaysia's population, their full and equitable participation in politics and public life was a prerequisite for achieving gender equality and ensuring sustainable development.

She said such inclusion was a cornerstone for fostering long-term, inclusive and sustainable development in Malaysia.

"The new challenges we face today require us to put behind us the talents and skills of our people, especially women," she added.

She stressed the need to overcome significant gender disparities by fostering societal understanding that women's contributions extended far beyond raising the next generation.

"To achieve this, we must address barriers such as unpaid care work, harmful social norms perpetuating inequality and the normalisation of violence against women both online and offline," she said.

Nancy also announced plans to launch Care Industrial Labs in May, bringing together stakeholders to strengthen Malaysia's care industries.

Research by the Institute of Strategic and International Studies showed that unpaid care work in Malaysia was valued at RM379 billion annually comparable to the gross domestic product (GDP) of the nation's wealthiest state in 2021.

She noted that access to quality, affordable care, be it childcare or elder care, was critical to managing Malaysia's demographic challenges.

Legislative and policy efforts

Nancy highlighted the ministry's recent efforts, including the establishment of the Anti-Sexual Harassment Tribunal, which ensures safer work environments and promotes labour force participation and productivity.

She led Malaysia's delegation to the 88th session of the Convention on the Elimination of Discrimination Against Women (CEDAW) in Geneva.

The feedback received helped refine national strategies, which will be incorporated into the Pelan Tindakan Pembangunan Wanita (National Action Plan for Women's Development), set to launch next year.

"This plan aims to empower women in leadership, economic participation and safety while fostering collaboration between ministries and agencies," she said.

The ministry is also implementing policies to encourage women to remain in the workforce, including the expansion of daycare facilities, gender-responsive budgeting and leadership training programmes.

"Our goal is to cultivate female talent and empower women to take on strategic roles.

"True progress means removing all barriers to women's potential, ensuring their voices are heard and building a nation where equity and inclusion thrive," she said.

A platform for change

This year's MWGF, themed "Women and Nation-Building: The Foundation for Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion," brought together key figures, including Deputy Communications Minister Teo Nie Ching, Senator Datuk Seri Dr Zuraimah Musa and Bukit Bendera MP Syerleena Abdul Rashid and other speakers and a moderator in various panels discussions.

The forum served as a call to action for Malaysia to prioritise women as equal partners in shaping the nation's future.

GISBH: Modul pulih akidah 100 kanak-kanak belum dituntut diteruskan

Oleh ISKANDAR SHAH MOHAMED 13 Disember 2024, 1:50 pm

Abdul Aziz (lima kiri) melakukan simbolik penyerahan bantuan makanan untuk mangsa-mangsa banjir di Kelantan, Terengganu dan Kedah, hari ini.

SHAH ALAM – Majlis Agama Islam Selangor (MAIS) meneruskan modul pemulihan akidah kepada lebih 100 anak-anak bekas anggota GISBH Holdings Sdn. Bhd. (GISBH) yang masih tidak dituntut keluarga.

Katanya, ini berikutan terdapat kanak-kanak tersebut masih dalam proses pengesahan identitinya.

“Proses pemulihan akidah itu setakat ini masih berjalan lancar dan menunjukkan perkembangan positif,” katanya ketika ditemui pada majlis pelepasan konvoi Bantuan Banjir MAIS di sini, hari ini.

Kosmo! sebelum ini melaporkan, seramai 20 guru al-Riqab terlibat dalam proses pemulihan akidah menggunakan modul khas itu dengan kerjasama JAIS dan Persatuan Institusi Tahfiz Al-Quran Negeri Selangor (PITAS) sejak 1 Oktober lalu.

Minggu lalu, Menteri Pembangunan Wanita, Keluarga dan Masyarakat, Datuk Seri Nancy Shukri memaklumkan lebih 130 kanak-kanak tidak dituntut keluarga berikutan takut tampil menemui pegawai JKM selain ada ibu bapa tidak berkemampuan dari segi ekonomi untuk membayar kos peguam untuk menuntut anak-anak di bawah jagaan JKM.- KOSMO! Kuala Lumpur: Situasi banjir di Terengganu pulih sepenuhnya apabila pusat pemindahan sementara (PPS) terakhir di Kemaman ditutup pada 2.30 petang tadi, manakala jumlah mangsa banjir di Perak, Pahang dan Johor tidak banyak berubah setakat petang ini.

Di PERAK, jumlah mangsa yang dipindahkan sedikit berkurangan kepada 186 orang daripada 57 keluarga yang ditempatkan di PPS Sekolah Kebangsaan (SK) Beruas di daerah Manjung, berbanding 220 orang pada pagi tadi.

Sekretariat Jawatankuasa Pengurusan Bencana Negeri (JBPN) dalam satu kenyataan memaklumkan bahawa PPS SK Teluk Kepayang di daerah Perak Tengah, yang menempatkan 34 mangsa daripada 11 keluarga sebelum ini, telah ditutup sepenuhnya pada pukul 3 petang tadi.

Jabatan Meteorologi Malaysia turut memaklumkan beberapa kawasan di negeri ini diramal mengalami ribut petir atau hujan lebat sehingga 6 petang, melibatkan daerah Kinta, Manjung, Batang Padang, Perak Tengah, Kampar, Bagan Datuk, Hilir Perak dan Muallim.

Sementara itu, paras air Sungai Rui di Jambatan Jalan Raya Perak (RHN) dan Sungai Bidor di Changkat Jong berada pada tahap amaran.

Di PAHANG, jumlah mangsa sedikit meningkat kepada 58 orang yang ditempatkan di empat PPS petang ini berbanding 48 orang pada pagi tadi melibatkan dua daerah terjejas iaitu Bera dan Maran.

Menurut aplikasi InfoBencana Jabatan Kebajikan Masyarakat (JKM) seramai 47 orang berada di tiga PPS di Bera iaitu Sekolah Kebangsaan Bukit Gemuruh, Balai Raya Kampung Seberang Guai dan Masjid Kampung manakala mangsa lagi berada di Balai Raya Kampung Pertanian, Maran.

Jumlah mangsa banjir di Segamat, Johorpula kekal 85 orang daripada 26 keluarga sehingga pukul 4 petang, sama seperti pagi tadi.

Pengerusi JBPN Johor, Tan Sri Dr Azmi Rohani berkata 85 mangsa yang terjejas ditempatkan di dua PPS iaitu Balai Raya Kampung Batu Badak dengan 40 mangsa daripada 12 keluarga, Dewan Komuniti Kampung Tasek dengan 45 mangsa daripada 14 keluarga

Pada masa yang sama, Sungai Muar di Buloh Kasap, Segamat, mencatat bacaan di paras amaran dengan 8.80 meter (m) melebihi paras normal 7.30m.

Kes mayat bayi beku: MAIS tidak terima aduan

Nasional - Dicipta: 13 Disember 2024 05:44 PM - Kemas kini: 13 Disember 2024 06:11 PM

Foto RTM

SHAH ALAM, 13 Disember- Majlis Agama Islam Selangor (MAIS) tidak menerima sebarang aduan berkaitan kejadian melibatkan mayat seorang bayi lelaki yang didakwa ditahan selama dua minggu oleh sebuah hospital swasta di Klang.

Menurut Pengerusi MAIS, Tan Sri Abdul Aziz Mohd Yusof, MAIS melalui agensinya, Lembaga Zakat Selangor (LZS), sedang berusaha mengesan ibu bapa bayi tersebut untuk mendapatkan maklumat sebenar mengenai kejadian itu.

"Jika kes melibatkan kesusahan, biasanya ada pihak yang akan memaklumkan kepada lembaga zakat. Namun, dalam kes ini, tiada maklumat disampaikan.

Abdul Aziz turut menyatakan bahawa perkara itu tidak sepatutnya berlaku dan perlu menjadi pengajaran kepada semua pihak.

Beliau menasihatkan umat Islam yang menghadapi kesulitan, terutama melibatkan kecemasan atau kematian, agar segera berjumpa dengan agensi agama terdekat untuk mendapatkan bantuan.

Terdahulu, kisah mengenai mayat seorang bayi lelaki yang didakwa disimpan dalam peti mayat hospital swasta kerana keluarga tidak mampu menuntut jenazah tular di media sosial, mencetuskan pelbagai reaksi orang ramai.

Dalam pada itu, Abdul Aziz memaklumkan bahawa lebih 100 kanak-kanak bekas anggota GISB Holdings Sdn Bhd yang belum dituntut keluarga masih mengikuti modul pemulihan khas yang dilaksanakan MAIS.

Menurut Abdul Aziz, kesemua kanak-kanak itu masih ditempatkan di rumah kebajikan selian Jabatan Kebajikan Masyarakat (JKM) di Cheras, Kuala Lumpur.

"Sehingga hari ini jumlah itu semakin berkurangan sebab ada anak-anak ini yang telah diambil oleh ibu bapa mereka yang dikendalikan JKM.

"Ada lagi yang masih tinggal, lebih kurang 100 orang. Pertamanya kita hendak pastikan ada waris yang betul, ada juga yang datang menuntut tapi JKM melihat ini tidak boleh diterima," katanya.

Abdul Aziz berkata, selain itu, sebahagian kanak-kanak tersebut masih dalam proses pengesahan identiti.

Father in 'baby in freezer' case voices his grief

PETALING JAYA: The father of a baby allegedly kept in a hospital freezer for two weeks has voiced his grief over the circumstances concerning his son's death.

"What have I done wrong? What was the sin of my son?" said factory worker Safwan Roshdy, 22.

Muhammad Adham Mikail was born with severe abnormalities, including having only one eye and no nose.

He died 30 minutes after birth on Nov 24.

A private hospital in Selangor was alleged to have kept the body in a freezer for over two weeks as the bill was not settled.

mStar reported that Safwan had lodged a police report in Kota Damansara yesterday morning.

He was accompanied by lawyer Datuk Ahmad Zaharil Muhaiyar.

Ahmad Zaharil said that legal action would be taken against social media users who had defamed Safwan's family, including accusations about his marital status.

"We have checked the status of my client's marriage certificate with the Perlis Islamic Religious Affairs Department and found that the certificate is valid," he said.

He said they would await the outcome of the investigation by the police and the Health Ministry on the matter.

On Wednesday, Hospital Bersalin Razif issued a statement to address allegations that had been circulated on social media.

Among others, it explained that the mother had not gone for any antenatal checkup throughout her pregnancy but the hospital went ahead to admit her on "humanitarian grounds."

"She was brought to the labour room and delivered almost immediately," the statement said.

Following the baby's death, the hospital said it reminded the woman several times to arrange for a burial.

She also told the hospital that she could not pay the RM2,480 bill, it said.

"As days passed, HBR kept reminding her to proceed with the burial but she kept saying her 'husband' was arranging it," said the hospital.

Firms are finding hidden gems

Women returning to the workplace have proven invaluable, say bosses

By TEH ATHIRA YUSOF and DIVYANA FORTEN newsdesk@thestar.com.my

"At first, we were unsure about hiring her due to the big gap in her resume, but when interviewing her, she had a great personality and was who we were looking for. We wanted someone capable of professionally leading and commanding other staff, which is hard to find when you are in the service industry," he said. Radli added that the government's plan to provide tax incentives for SMEs to hire women returning to the workplace is a great initiative.

He also said employers should improve parental leave policies to be more inclusive, adding that this could make a real difference. "When both parents can share caregiving duties, it takes pressure off mothers and gives them the space they need to return to work at their own pace. "And beyond being the right thing to do, it's good for business too - encouraging family-friendly policies can reduce turnover."

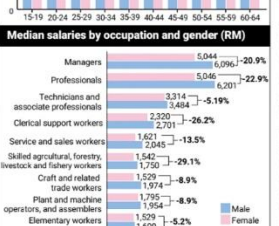

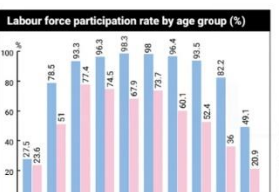

"We also hope this could be the stepping stone from the government to create more policies and incentives that could benefit both employers and employees."

Sodexo Malaysia and Singapore human resources director Rajiro Navale said the additional tax exemption would encourage companies to hire such women. "By easing the financial burden, especially for SMEs, this incentive makes it more attractive for companies to hire women with career gaps, helping them re-enter the workforce with a reduced risk for employers."

He said these women should be given the opportunity to work and should also be offered stable incomes and work flexibility due to their roles. "The gap part is an issue at all. Growing up, I knew women who had to take career breaks to raise their kids or take care of an ageing or sick parent. "Some short breaks, some long - so for me, I don't think it's fair if life's challenges are seen as something that diminishes their value," she added.

Caregiving keeps women out of the workforce

PETALING JAYA: Four out of 10 women outside the labour force have work experience, but most are not seeking employment because of housework or family responsibilities.

When looking at labour force participation rate, women's involvement in the workforce drops at the age of 35-39 years (67.9%) and slightly increases at 40-44 years (73.7%).

male counterparts, while craft and related trades female workers were paid 2% lower and female professionals paid 23% less. Chai said the government should look into policies that address sex and age discrimination at the workplace, gender and age sensitisation efforts, and recognising the value of housework.

Pay transparency also a step towards equality

Private sector companies can also adopt pay transparency and gender-disaggregated pay gap reporting practices.

Dr Sharon A. Bong, Professor of Gender Studies at the School of Arts and Social Sciences at Monash University Malaysia, said women take breaks in employment often due to caregiving and health-related or personal reasons such as burnout. "Their skills gap is exacerbated by the rapid developments in knowledge-based and skills-based industries that are further impacted by artificial intelligence (AI). The sense of being out of touch with the demands of the workforce and workplace is real and the onus to accelerate one's entry is often borne by the individual alone," she said. Bong said difficulty in finding work-life balance increases as the workplace can be an unforgiving place unless there is employee access to flexible hours, work from home arrangements and structured returnship programmes, and a general workplace culture that values equity, diversity and inclusion. She added that women are often faced with the institutional challenges in which the burden of caring for families is often the

5% raise is good, but not good enough, say workers

PETALING JAYA: The projected 5% increase in wages for employees across all sectors is great news, but it is still not good enough as it does not keep up with inflation and the cost of living, say workers.

Challenges remain for many

Women are happy to return to work, but say more can be done

By TEH ATHIRA YUSOF sebahaiyusof@thestar.com.my PETALING JAYA: A former manager at a famous fast-food chain never imagined she would return to work after leaving the industry more than five years earlier. Now employed as an assistant manager at a local restaurant, Anislynn May, 36, said she had to leave her previous job due to marital reasons and to care for her children. "I'm being trained to be the supervisor for the restaurant's latest branch, giving her more responsibility. "To be honest, I really enjoyed working in the service and hospitality industry - it's where I started in my 10 years."

"It was also where I saw my career progress in the years I was in service, but I had to leave due to my heart condition and I wanted to spend time with my children," said the mother of two. When she decided it was time to return to work, Anislynn searched high and low for a job that could provide her with stability and flexibility. "When I had my interview at this restaurant in Petaling Jaya, I told them of my health condition and what I required from them. It was great that they were accommodating of my request and did not even try to low-ball my salary offer, and employed me as soon I was able to join the company. "I think it's great that I am seeing more employers being supported by the government to enable women like me to return to work."

to expand his skills set, such as editing academic journals and doing posters for marketing. "I'm looking to return to the advertising or marketing industry - however, I am positive I can secure a position following all the training I have attended," she added.

Hsa had left the full-time workforce for almost seven years when she returned to work. "While so far the interviews have been okay, the salaries I have been offered were too low. Sometimes the pay I get from my freelance work in a month was even higher. "I want to work so I can build a career, but I must find a job where I can contribute to the household income equally like I currently am with my part-time work."

programme would be implemented to encourage women to return to work in the financial sector by providing training facilities, followed by connecting with suitable prospective employers. The government also proposed an additional income tax exemption of 50% for 12 months for employers who hire women returning to work. Meanwhile, Dorothy Jane Bouville, a senior operations manager at Sodexo, a multinational specialising in providing a wide range of services including food services, facilities management, and employee benefits, said job stability was crucial when she returned to the workforce. "The mother of three girls joined Sodexo in 2016 when her children were between the ages of 13 and 18. "Job stability was important as my two older daughters were about to start college. Facilities management was a completely new industry for me, and I faced the daunting challenge of meeting the company's expectations during the critical probation period, while also managing a client with

"I was previously a copywriter, but I have dabbled in all sorts of freelance work that allowed me more challenging requests. "To navigate these challenges, I relied on the same principles I used as a mother managing my home. Facilities management, in many ways, parallels running a household. "Taking on a completely new career at this stage in my life was not the easiest, but I was lucky because I had supportive leaders who believed in me and guided me every step of the way - and to whom I'm grateful to," she added. As a mother, Bouville said she hopes that there would be more initiatives from companies to implement childcare solutions, such as subsidised childcare or partnerships with nearby providers. "It might not be enough to meet the growing needs of a family. The cost of living is increasing at a pace that makes it challenging to save for the future or achieve long-term financial goals," he said, adding that he welcomed the

Tarik balik tuduhan atau berdepan tindakan saman - Peguam bapa bayi 'ditahan' di hospital

Oleh Raja Noraina Raja Rahim - Disember 13, 2024 @ 10:18am rnoraina@hmetro.com.my

PETALING JAYA: Bapa kepada bayi lelaki dinamakan Adham yang mayatnya 'disimpan' oleh sebuah hospital swasta memberi tempoh tiga jam sehingga tengah malam tadi kepada netizen yang melontarkan fitnah dan tuduhan di media sosial supaya menarik balik atau berdepan tindakan saman.

Peguam Datuk Ahmad Zaharil Muhaiyar yang mewakili Safwan Roshdy, berkata pihaknya sudah mengenal pasti beberapa pemilik akaun media sosial yang melemparkan fitnah terhadap anak guamnya termasuk dakwaan tidak berkahwin.

Beliau berkata, pihaknya sudah membuat semakan terhadap sijil perkahwinan anak guamnya itu melalui Jabatan Hal Ehwal Agama Islam Perlis (JAIPs) yang kemudian mengesahkan kesahihan sijil berkenaan.

"Kami beri tiga jam (sehingga 12 tengah malam ini) untuk padamkan hantaran atau komen (fitnah).

"Jangan buat andaian jumud. Kami sudah kenal pasti (netizen) sama ada yang buat siaran langsung TikTok dan sebagainya," katanya ketika ditemui di kediamannya di Kota Damansara di sini, malam tadi.

Mengenai kenyataan yang dikeluarkan oleh pihak hospital berhubung kes anak guamnya itu, Ahmad Zaharil berkata, pihaknya akan membuat laporan polis dalam masa terdekat sebelum tindakan undang-undang diambil.

Beliau berkata, tindakan saman sivil dan jenayah mungkin boleh diambil terhadap pihak hospital kerana kesalahan menyimpan jenazah bayi selama 16 hari disebabkan bapa tidak menjelaskan bil rawatan.

Bagaimanapun, katanya, pihaknya perlu mendapatkan siasatan lanjut oleh pihak polis dan Kementerian Kesihatan Malaysia (KKM) berhubung perkara itu.

Sementara itu, Safwan, 22, mengakui kecewa apabila terdapat pihak yang melemparkan pelbagai tuduhan termasuk tidak berkahwin, selain turut mencaci dan mengutuknya.

Pekerja kilang itu berkata, dia tidak teragak-agak untuk mengambil tindakan undang-undang dan menyerahkan kepada peguamnya untuk tindakan lanjut.

RM50,000 diperlukan bedah bayi

Athiya dilahirkan sindrom down, jantung berlubang, pernafasan, tiroid

Oleh Nurifah Sallehuddin bhnews@bh.com.my

Kuala Lumpur: Seorang bayi berusia tiga bulan dilahirkan dengan pelbagai penyakit yang serius, memerlukan sumbangan dana RM50,000 bagi membiayai kos pembedahan yang perlu dilakukan segera.

Tuan Nur Madina Athiya Muhammad Nur Syukri disahkan dilahirkan dengan sindrom down, masalah jantung berlubang, pernafasan dan tiroid.

Bapanya, Muhammad Nur Syukri Abd Razak, 31, berkata segala-galanya nampak berjalan lancar tanpa sebarang tanda awal yang menunjukkan masalah kesihatan ketika dalam kandungan ibunya, Tuan Juliza Tuan Jusoh, 43.

"Namun, selepas dilahirkan 2 September lalu, Athiya tidak bernafas dengan baik dan doktor memberitahu kami bahawa dia (Athiya) mungkin mengidap sindrom Down," katanya.

Selain sindrom down, katanya, Athiya juga mengalami masalah pernafasan berikutan saluran oksigen tidak berfungsi dengan baik.

Katanya, jantung Athiya turut mengalami komplikasi serius, dengan lubang besar di kedua-dua bahagian utama jantungnya yang mengganggu aliran darah dan menyebabkan masalah pernafasan.

Tuan Juliza berkata, doktor baru-baru ini melakukan prosedur mengurangkan beban pada jantungnya tetapi pembedahan yang lebih besar masih diperlukan untuk memperbaiki jantung dan pernafasannya.

"Sehingga kini, Athiya tidak pernah dapat bernafas sendiri tanpa bantuan alat pernafasan.

"Dia memerlukan bantuan pernafasan sejak lahir kerana saluran oksigen tidak berfungsi dengan baik. Namun, doktor juga mengesahkan lubang di jantungnya besar dengan dua bahagian utama terjejas," katanya.

liza hanya dapat mendukung anaknya sekali, itu pun dengan bantuan doktor.

"Baru sekali saya dapat mendakapnya. Saya hanya mahu dapat mendukungnya seperti ibu lain.

"Selepas pembedahan ini, kami berharap dia dapat bernafas de-dan umur untuk kami bersamanya, kami akan terus berusaha yang terbaik," katanya.

Doktor memantau rapi

Athiya kini menjalani pemantauan rapi oleh doktor di Hospital Pusat Perubatan Sunway dan setiap langkah kecil ke arah pemulihan memberi harapan besar buat keluarga ini.

Orang ramai yang ingin membantu boleh menyalurkan sumbangan ke Tabung Kemanusiaan Media Prima-NSTP dalam bentuk cek, dengan menulis nama Tuan Nur Madina Athiya Muhammad Nur Syukri di belakang cek.

Sumbangan boleh dialamatkan kepada Jabatan Komunikasi Korporat Kumpulan Media Prima Bhd, Aras 1, Anjung Riong, Balai Berita, 31 Jalan Riong, 59100 Bangsar, Kuala Lumpur.

Selain itu, sumbangan boleh disalurkan menerusi akaun bank Bank Muamalat (1401 0008 8427 18) dan Maybank (5141 0532 3170) dan nyatakan nama pesakit pada bahagian rujukan penerima atau butiran pembayaran lain.

Bayi sindrom Down hidap tiga penyakit mohon bantuan ramai

Seorang bayi perempuan berusia tiga bulan ini, bukan sahaja disahkan sindrom Down tetapi turut menghidap penyakit jantung berlubang, masalah tiroid dan tiada lubang dubur.

Itu keadaan dilalui bayi Tuan Nur Madina Athiya Muhammad Nur Syukri apabila selamat dilahirkan pada 2 September lalu di Hospital Kuala Terengganu, Terengganu.

Ibunya Tuan Juliza Tuan Jusoh, 43, berkata, bayi dalam kandungan dilapor sihat dan baik sepanjang kehamilan.

"Selama saya hamil dan setiap kali pergi buat pemeriksaan memang ada buat ujian imbasan. Setiap kali itu juga difahamkan keadaan bayi sihat dan okay. Cuma, saya saja yang ada kencing manis ketika hamil.

"Memandangkan dua anak sebelumnya adalah lelaki, jadi apabila kehamilan kali ini jantina perempuan, saya dan suami sangat gembira.

"Apabila selamat bersalin doktor memaklumkan bayi kami sindrom down. Saya cuba untuk kuat. Ketika itu saya cakup pada diri, saya terima ketentuan Allah. Selebihnya saya mahu dia okay dan sihat. Namun, sebaliknya yang mana bayi saya ada komplikasi kesihatan lain," katanya kepada Harian Metro.

Menurutnya yang juga guru tadika, dia reda apabila diberitahu bayi yang baru dilahirkan itu turut menghidap penyakit jantung berlubang, masalah tiroid dan tiada lubang dubur.

"Selepas bersalin, ketika keadaan saya masih belum okay, suami beritahu bayi ada masalah pernafasan. Doktor juga mahu berjumpa dan maklumkan keadaan sebenar bayi.

"Pada mulanya saya fikir bayi saya tak normal saja, tapi ada komplikasi lain. Memang hilang kata-kata ketika itu. Semua perasaan ada. Namun, saya reda dengan ketentuan Allah," ka-tanya. Keadaan itu menyebabkan Tuan Nur Madina Athiya perlu menjalani pembedahan segera di Pusat Perubatan Sunway, Subang Jaya dengan kos RM50,000.

Sementara itu, bapanya Muhammad Nor Syukri Abd Razak, 31, berkata, itu ujian kedua mereka selepas anak lelaki kedua mereka yang berusia lima tahun turut disahkan menghidap kanser otot pada 2022.

"Bagi kami berdua, ini ujian kedua. Sebelum ini, abang Athiya disahkan kanser otot. Saya cakup pada isteri, kita kena menjadi kuat lagi.

"Saya yakin dan percaya, ujian yang menimpa bayi kami ini Allah nak gantikan yang lebih baik. Insya-Allah, kami cuba buat yang termampu untuk dia," katanya.

Orang ramai yang ingin membantu boleh menyerahkan sumbangan dalam bentuk cek dengan menulis nama pesakit di belakang cek kepada Tabung Kemanusiaan Media Prima-NSTP dan sumbangan itu layak mendapat pelepasan cukai.

Sumbangan boleh dialamatkan kepada Jabatan Komunikasi Korporat Kumpulan Media Prima Berhad, Tingkat 5, Anjung Riong, Balai Berita, 31 Jalan Riong, 59100 Bangsar, Kuala Lumpur.

TAJUK : COUPLE SEEKS DONATIONS FOR BABY'S HEART SURGERY

MEDIA PRIMA-NSTP HUMANITARIAN FUND

Couple seeks donations for baby's heart surgery

KUALA LUMPUR: For Tuan Juliza Tuan Jusoh, the arrival of a baby with an intellectual disability was not a cause for concern, as long as her child was healthy.

However, her world turned upside down when she learned that her daughter faced not one, but two serious medical conditions.

Juliza, 43, had a relatively uneventful pregnancy, aside from extra scans necessitated by her diabetes.

She and her husband, Muhammad Nur Syukri Abd Razak, 31, longed for a daughter to complement their two sons.

Their joy knew no bounds when they discovered that they were expecting a girl, and no abnormalities had been detected during the pregnancy.

"We were overjoyed to learn we were having a daughter," said Juliza.

However their happiness was short-lived.

Shortly after giving birth, the parents were told that their newborn, Tuan Nur Madina Athiya, had Down syndrome.

"I tried to be strong for my baby. I didn't mind that she had Down syndrome. All I wanted was for her to be okay, so I could hold and hug her," she said.

The heartache deepened when her husband called with alarming news — Madina had struggled to breathe.

Juliza learnt that her daughter not only had breathing difficulties, but critical heart issues too.

Madina was diagnosed with multiple life-threatening heart defects, including a large Perimembranous Ventricular Septal Defect (VSD) and a large Patent Ductus Arteriosus (PDA).

On top of this, she grapples with Arterious Congenital Hypertrophy.

These heart conditions have left Madina fighting for her life, relying on breathing equipment and connected to tubes that help her breathe, as fluid easily enters her lungs.

Nur Syukri, a kindergarten assistant, felt crushed by his daughter's diagnosis but resolved to remain strong for his family.

This was not the first trial they had faced. Their youngest son, Ahmad, 5, had battled stage 4 muscle cancer for two years, only to be declared cancer-free at the beginning of this year.

"Our youngest son suffered from cancer for two years with the muscle cancer reaching stage 4.

"We thought our struggles were behind us, but now we are faced with Madina's health complications," he said, his voice heavy with emotion.

The couple is appealing for RM50,000 in donations to cover the costs of Madina's surgery.

"If the surgery is successful, she may no longer need breathing equipment or have the tubes placed through her nose instead of her mouth," said Juliza.

Despite three unsuccessful attempts to assist Madina's breathing through her nose due to the holes in her heart, Juliza remains hopeful.

"I just want to hold her, to touch her," she said, her eyes glistening with tears.

"Your donation will give both me and my daughter strength," she added.

Those who wish to help the toddler can send cheques made payable to Media Prima-NSTP Humanitarian Fund to the Group Corporate Communications Department, Media Prima Bhd, Level 1, Anjung Riong, Balai Berita, 31 Jalan Riong, 59100 Bangsar, Kuala Lumpur, with the patient's name written on the reverse side of the cheque.

The public may donate to the Media Prima-NSTP Humanitarian Fund through the Bank Muamalat account number 1401 0008 8427 18 or Maybank 5141 0532 3170.

Donations to the Media Prima-NSTP Humanitarian Fund are tax-deductible.
