FOR many underprivileged families and children, festive seasons often highlight challenges in meeting basic needs.

This year, Yayasan Sime Darby (YSD) expanded its support for marginalised communities through its Sinar Harapan Programme, benefiting more than 9,960 individuals.

A key highlight was the Majlis Ihya' Ramadan with Women, Family and Community Development Minister Datuk Seri Nancy Shukri and the Social Welfare Department, where food packs and money packets were distributed to 729 individuals from 17 charitable homes at the event in Putrajaya.

YSD also rolled out other Ramadan initiatives, including a buka puasa event in Parit Sulong, Johor with Deputy Women, Family and Community Development Minister Datuk Seri Dr Noraini Ahmad, with food packs for hardcore poor families from 73 villages.

Distribution of bubur lambuk also took place in Johor, Perak and Kedah, for nearly 4,000 people.

In Kuala Lumpur, food, hygiene kits and money packets were given to 40 children from Pertubuhan Kebajikan Anak-Anak Yatim dan Asnaf Baitun Nurrawdah, while food packs were delivered to 160 individuals in Selangor's Rumah Kasih Harmoni Paya Jaras and Persatuan Kebajikan Rumah Anak-Anak Yatim Damai Kuang.

Another 54 Huluran Kasih volunteers distributed food packs to 1,322 B40 families across 10 townships.

Since its inception in 2014, the Sinar Harapan Programme has channelled RM8mil to over 122,000 individuals through festive aid and long-term healthcare support in rural communities.

"Sinar Harapan represents everything YSD stands for – a deep commitment to improving the lives of underprivileged communities across Malaysia," said YSD chief executive officer Dr Yatela Zainal Abidin.

"Each year, our efforts grow stronger and we see the positive changes in the lives of the 122,039 people we've reached.

"This Ramadan, our nationwide initiatives continue to reflect our values of compassion with action, ensuring that our support reaches those who need it the most," she said.
