Dasar Wanita Negara tingkat kesejahteraan

Kuala Lumpur: Kementerian Pembangunan Wanita, Keluarga dan Masyarakat (KPWK) melalui Jabatan Pembangunan Wanita terus melangkah lebih kukuh apabila Dasar Wanita Negara dan Pelan Tindakan Pembangunan Wanita tahun 2025-2030 (DWN & PTPW 2025-2030) dilancarkan, baru-baru ini.

Menteri Pembangunan Wanita, Keluarga dan Masyarakat, Datuk Seri Nancy Shukri, berkata terdapat tiga faktor utama yang menjadi asas kepada pembangunan DWN iaitu demografi, kadar penyertaan wanita dalam tenaga buruh dan sasaran 30 peratus wanita sebagai pembuat keputusan khususnya dalam bidang politik.

Justeru, katanya DWN dan PTPW tahun 2025-2030 yang kini digubal masuk kali ketiga akan dijadikan panduan kepada pelaksanaan 26 strategi, 75 program dan 182 inisiatif kepada semua pihak berkepentingan.

"Berbeza dengan DWN tahun 2009, naratif DWN dan PTPW tahun 2025-2030 akan dimulakan dengan latar belakang kepentingan dasar wanita dan impak, sejarah pemerksaan wanita dan rasional semakan semula yang bertujuan memupuk kefahaman dalam kalangan masyarakat berkaitan dengan nuansa pemerksaan wanita.

"DWN dan PTPW tahun 2025-2030 ini akan dilaksanakan dalam tempoh lima tahun, seiring dengan kitaran Rancangan Malaysia dan akan dilengkapi dengan sasaran keberhasilan terperinci bagi menambah baik proses pemantauan dan penilaian.

"Matlamatnya adalah memperkasakan wanita terbabit secara bermakna bagi mencapai potensi mereka sepenuhnya melalui pembangunan inklusif ke arah kesaksamaan gender," katanya.

Dasar tumpu 4 bidang

Nancy berkata, bertemakan 'Memartabat Wanita, Memperkukuh Negara', dasar ini memberi tumpuan kepada empat bidang keutamaan, iaitu ekonomi, kepimpinan, keselamatan dan kesejahteraan.

"Bidang ekonomi lebih menurus kepada 60 peratus peningkatan kadar penyertaan wanita dalam tenaga buruh, peningkatan usahawan wanita berdaftar dengan Suruhanjaya Syarikat Malaysia (SSM) menjelang tahun 2030 dan peningkatan skor subindeks penyertaan pekerja wanita profesional dan teknikal di bawah MGGI.

"Sudut kepimpinan pula terarah kepada 30 peratus wanita di peringkat pembuat keputusan dan politik, mekanisme, jentera serta institusi pembangunan wanita.

"Sementara itu, dari sudut keselamatan akan memfokuskan 10 peratus wanita dan undang-un-dang serta keganasan terhadap wanita manakala dari sudut kesejahteraan akan membabitkan kesihatan, media, alam sekitar, agama, kesenian, kebudayaan dan warisan serta sukan," katanya.

Beliau berkata, bagi memastikan pelaksanaan efektif, DWN ini akan memperkenalkan 12 pemicu perubahan serta empat pemboleh daya yang dijangka menjadi pencetus kejayaan pelaksanaan DWN iaitu data berasaskan gender, bajet responsive gender, penilaian impak berasaskan gender dan audit gender.

"Berdasarkan kepada semua usaha, strategi dan inisiatif, KPWKM berharap pelaksanaannya mampu memberi impak dalam meningkatkan kesejahteraan wanita, kedudukan Malaysia di peringkat antarabangsa, komitmen kepada piala global dan pendekatan 'whole-nation'.

"Dari sudut piawaian antarabangsa pula, kementerian optimis bahawa DWN dijangka meningkatkan imej Malaysia dalam laporan antarabangsa seperti Konvensyen Penghapusan Segala Bentuk Diskriminasi Terhadap Wanita (CEDAW), Matlamat Pembangunan Mampan (SDG), Indeks Jurang Jantina Global dan Laporan Daya Saing Dunia," katanya.

Katanya lagi, berteraskan as-pirasi Malaysia MADANI, DWN dan PTPW 2025-2030 bukan sekadar dasar kerajaan, tetapi satu inisiatif menyeluruh yang memerlukan pembabit semua pihak bagi mencipta ekosistem lebih adil, inklusif dan berdaya saing.

"Pembaharuan dasar ini adalah langkah strategik yang menekankan kepentingan untuk memartabatkan peranan wanita serta kesaksamaan gender secara inklusif.

"Dasar ini akan mengukuhkan hak dan peranan wanita dalam pelbagai bidang untuk lebih berdaya saing dan terus maju pada peringkat kebangsaan dan antarabangsa," katanya.

Beware of scammers impersonating Nancy on Facebook

News Desk Sarawak News, Top Story 13 March 2025 9 minutes ago

Official Facebook account of the Women, Family and Community Development Minister.

KUCHING: Women, Family and Community Development Minister, Datuk Seri Nancy Shukri, has alerted the public about scammers impersonating her on Facebook by using a fake account with her name and photo.

She asserted that these fraudsters are attempting to deceive people by creating accounts that mimic her official pages, falsely claiming to offer financial aid.

"I strongly urge the public to always remain vigilant and not be deceived by their actions.

"For information, all my official dealings and announcements will only be made through my verified accounts with the official blue tick," she said in a Facebook post.

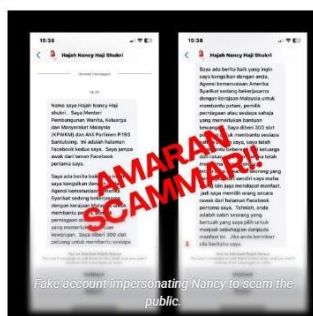

Nancy shared links to her official Facebook, Instagram, TikTok, and X (formerly Twitter) accounts to help the public identify genuine profiles.

One of the fraudulent messages falsely claimed that Nancy was offering financial assistance through a collaboration between a United States of America (USA) humanitarian agency and the Malaysian Government.

The scam message also told victims they were among 300 selected individuals eligible for aid.

Nancy has urged the public to avoid engaging with scammers, reminding Malaysians to verify the authenticity of any communication before responding.

"Stay alert, protect your families, and let's work together to prevent fraud that could cause financial losses," she added.

Bunyi lesung batu kejut Nancy sahur

Nurul Hidayah Bahaudin
nurul.hidayah@metro.com.my

Dari Sahur hingga Iftar

Datuk Seri Nancy Shukri

Setiap individu pastinya mempunyai kenangan berpuasa ketika kecil yang menjadi memori manis untuk diingat sepanjang hayat.

Keistimewaan menyambut Ramadan ketika kecil di kampung halaman di Kampung Santubong, Kuching, Sarawak menjadi antara kenangan yang tidak dapat dilupakan Datuk Seri Nancy Shukri.

Ruangan Dari Sahur ke Iftar hari ini menyingkap perkongsian Menteri Pembangunan Wanita, Keluarga dan Masyarakat, Datuk Seri Nancy Shukri mengenai kenangan Ramadan.

• Apakah pengalaman yang Datuk Seri tidak dapat lupakan ketika berpuasa?

Saya mempunyai rutin memulakan hari saya dengan makan buah pada setiap pagi. Amalan itu yang saya perlu ingatkan kepada diri sendiri bahawa saya berpuasa. Ini kerana pernah berlaku sebelum ini saya makan buah pada waktu pagi ketika berpuasa sunat hingga terbatal puasa.

• Pada usia berapa, Datuk Seri mula berpuasa penuh?

Membesar di kampung, saya sudah dilatih berpuasa dari usia seawal lima tahun. Ketika kecil, saya automatik bangun untuk sahur kerana jiran sebelah-menyebelah sibuk memasak dengan kedengaran bunyi lesung batu menumbuk sambal.

• Apakah juadah wajib yang mesti ada di meja berbuka Datuk Seri?

Lazimnya, bubur pedas yang juga juadah istimewa dari Sarawak menjadi makanan wajib bagi saya ketika berbuka puasa. Di Sarawak, ramai yang memilih bubur pedas sebagai menu wajib juadah berbuka puasa Ramadan.

• Di manakah bazar Ramadan kegemaran Datuk Seri dan mengapa?

Di Kuching, Sarawak, bazar kegemaran saya adalah di Satok. Di Semenanjung pula, ada pelbagai lokasi bazar Ramadan yang pernah dikunjungi iaitu di Taman Tun Dr Ismail (TTDI) dan Putrajaya kerana kemeriahan suasana serta banyak pilihan juadah.

• Apakah memori bersahur ketika kanak-kanak yang diingat Datuk Seri sehingga kini?

Ketika kecil, suasana tinggal di kampung amat menyeronokkan. Meskipun mengantuk, saya gigih untuk bangun dengan kepala di atas meja makan. Namun, kembali segar apabila mendengar arwah ibu bercakap dengan jiran sebelah-menyebelah. Mereka boleh bergurau dan bercerita dengan nada suara yang kuat pada jam 3.30 pagi berkongsi menu sahur.

• Apakah cabaran terbesar bagi Datuk Seri ketika berpuasa?

Bagi saya, cabaran terbesar adalah ketika melihat air tebu yang dapat dibayangkan kemanisannya sekiranya boleh terus dinikmati.

• Apakah makanan yang Datuk Seri cuba elakkan sepanjang Ramadan?

Saya memang kurang makan makanan pedas seperti asam pedas dan kari kerana ia memberikan rasa tidak selesa pada perut saya.

• Bagaimana Ramadan kali ini berbeza bagi Datuk Seri berbanding tahun sebelumnya?

Pada Ramadan kali ini, memang berbeza dari dulu kerana banyak masa saya berkhidmat dengan mengadakan majlis berbuka di luar rumah dan jarang berkumpul bersama keluarga. Namun, saya tetap mengaturnya untuk makan bersama keluarga meskipun perlu membahagikan masa berada di Semenanjung, Sarawak dan Sabah.

• Apakah perubahan positif yang diharap dapat diteruskan Datuk Seri selepas Ramadan?

Bagi saya, saya akan terus mengamalkan berpuasa walaupun bukan pada Ramadan kerana ia memberi kesan kesihatan yang baik kepada saya. Ia memang agak mencabar kerana kebanyakan waktu saya bekerja dan kurang manis apabila tidak menjamah makanan ketika bersama tetamu.

• Apakah kenangan paling berharga bagi Datuk Seri ketika solat tarawih?

Kenangan yang tidak dapat dilupakan ketika solat tarawih adalah ketika berada di kampung. Ketika itu, masing-masing berebut mendapatkan lokasi yang dekat dengan kipas angin.

Waktu dulu, surau di kampung tidak mempunyai pendingin hawa dengan jumlah jemaah yang ramai pada Ramadan. Kalau saya cepat, dapat tempat yang sejuk sedikit memandangkan saya tidak hanya melakukan lapan rakaat tarawih, tetapi penuh.

• Berapa rakaat biasanya Datuk Seri lakukan ketika solat tarawih?

Kebiasaannya, saya melakukan 20 rakaat kerana seronok ada program lain lagi di masjid seperti tadarus selepas tarawih. Ketika itu, saya akan jumpa ramai kawan.

• Apakah petua kesihatan yang Datuk Seri amalkan sepanjang Ramadan?

Pada Ramadan, saya mesti makan ketika berbuka tanpa mengira jenis hidangan kerana bimbang tidak ada selera makan ketika waktu sahur. Maka penjagaan kesihatan pada Ramadan berbeza berbanding bulan lain mungkin rasa lemah badan pada waktu siang. Justeru, pemakanan dan minuman diambil perlu seimbang demi menjaga kesihatan.

• Apakah yang menjadi pilihan Datuk Seri sama ada berbuka puasa di rumah, gerai atau tempahan berbuka puasa secara bufet?

Sejujurnya, rumah tempat berbuka puasa terbaik bagi saya kerana lebih mudah mengatur masa untuk solat. Malah, penyediaan juadah di rumah juga lebih terurus mengikut keperluan dan tidak berlebihan. Cuma dalam menjalankan tugas, sukar bagi saya mengelak untuk makan di luar bersama masyarakat.

• Apakah sajian yang paling disukai Datuk Seri ketika bersahur?

Juadah paling saya sukai ketika sahur adalah nasi putih dengan ikan masin atau telur masin dan sayur rebus.

• Adakah Datuk Seri sudah membuat persiapan raya?

Saya membuat persiapan raya awal kerana kekangan masa. Setiap kali, ada ruang saya akan membeli barang keperluan rumah manakala barang lama pula saya sedekahkan.

Daripada segi pakaian pula, saya sudah membeli kain untuk kami sekeluarga kerana kami gemar memakai warna sedondon untuk menunjukkan semangat kekeluargaan.

Lebih menarik, setiap ahli keluarga saya masing-masing mempunyai tukang jahit pilihan sendiri. Cuma bagi saya dan anak perempuan, kami berkongsi tukang jahit yang sama. Tradisi itu juga menunjukkan semangat membuat persediaan menyambut Aidilfitri.

Meskipun saya sendiri tidak berada di Kuching, tetapi segala urusan di rumah sudah diaturkan untuk persediaan raya.

Single mother in Kedah supports family through recycling

By Adie Zulkifli - March 13, 2025 @ 11:34am

ALOR STAR: Her face beams with joy as Nor Aza Hamzah, 43, shows a mobile application that displays the proceeds she has earned from selling recyclable items to support her family.

"I collect boxes, papers, and other recyclable items at my children's school and sell them to a recycling centre in Jitra," said the single mother of four.

Nor Aza lost her husband, Mohd Asri Zakaria, to kidney cancer two years ago.

She has since relied on an 'old junk' Perodua Kancil to send her children, aged 3 to 11, to school and take her mother-in-law, Aishah Salleh, 75, for medical checkups. One of her children is autistic.

She does all sorts of work to support her family, from raising ducks to making salted eggs, rearing catfish, to cleaning fish.

Her story went viral on social media in late December after being highlighted by Cancer Survivors Malaysia chairman Zuraini Kamal.

Help poured in, and thanks to the generosity of Malaysians, she was able to buy a "new" car, a second-hand Proton Saga.

One could not help but wonder how this single mother was able to smile every time she spoke of her struggles.

"Alhamdulillah, I have discovered how recycling can generate additional income.

"Besides collecting boxes and papers, I am also source for food waste. Several generous eateries and restaurants are providing me with the leftovers. The teachers at my children's school are also very supportive.

"If time permits, I wish to focus more on collecting recyclable items. You must set aside any shame in what you do.

"Initially, I felt embarrassed about rummaging through dumpsters, but now I have got used to it," she added.

Nor Aza said she is also grateful that her children receive monthly allowances from the Welfare Department, which helps ease some of her burdens.

Yesterday, a solid waste management company, E-Idaman, together with KSDC Insurance Brokers, visited the family in Kampung Senjana, Titi Gajah, and presented a cash donation and essential items.

"I wish to thank all the well-wishers and corporate organisations that have been very generous in helping my family.

"I always pray that Allah grants me health, so I can continue supporting my children and mother-in-law," she said.

No excuse for enduring abuse

Unemployed women must prepare themselves by acquiring skills to achieve financial independence. (pic: MEDIA MULIA)

Islamic law allows a wife to leave an abusive marriage for self-protection, as an abusive husband violates his duties as the family leader

STORIES of women falling victim to domestic abuse, whether physical or emotional, particularly at the hands of their husbands, have unfortunately become all too common in today's society.

In some tragic cases, the outcome is death, whether of the wife or the husband. When this happens, society often wonders why the wife doesn't leave the home and escape from an irresponsible husband.

The common response is that the wife does not want and is fully dependent on him. Additionally, she may fear being labelled as "nusyuz" (disobedient to her husband) and losing custody of her children.

According to statistics from the Royal Malaysia Police, 12,324 domestic violence cases were recorded nationwide over the five years since 2015.

However, it cannot be denied that the actual number may be much higher, as not all victims come forward to the authorities due to various reasons known only to them.

Dilemma of 'Nusyuz'

Addressing this issue, Universiti Teknologi Mara Academy of Contemporary Islamic Studies senior lecturer Dr Khairul Azhar Meeringsari explained that Islam grants a wife the right to leave a marriage filled with abuse to ensure her safety.

He said a husband who commits oppression violates his responsibilities as the leader of the family. Therefore, leaving a toxic marriage is not an act of disobedience ("nusyuz"). Instead, it is a form of self-protection permitted by Islamic law.

Expanding further, Khairul Azhar said "nusyuz" is often a term that strikes fear in the hearts of wives, pushing them to accept their husband's behaviour without question.

"Essentially, 'nusyuz' refers to a wife's disobedience to her husband's rights and authority without a valid reason permitted by Islamic law. In other words, if there is a legitimate reason under Islamic law, such as physical or mental harm, it is permissible for a wife to leave the home to protect herself from such danger.

"According to Sheikh Muhammad al-Zuhayli, a wife who is oppressed is advised to remind her husband of the dire consequences of his unjust actions. If the husband changes and improves, that would be the best outcome. However, if the husband refuses to change, the wife should bring the matter to the attention of a judge to assert her rights," he told Bernama.

He added that a judge plays a vital role in restoring the rights of the oppressed wife, as she may be unable to resolve the matter independently.

"If the husband continues his abusive behaviour, the wife has the right to request the judge to take appropriate action against him," he said.

Under Islamic law, child custody or 'hadanah' prioritises the welfare of the children (pic: MEDIA MULIA)

When asked from Islamic perspective whether a wife can be considered "nusyuz" for leaving her home due to her husband's abuse, Khairul Azhar said a wife who leaves her home due to abuse does not fall under the category of "nusyuz".

"In Islam, nusyuz only applies if a wife intentionally refuses to fulfil her responsibilities without a valid reason. On the other hand, a husband's abuse nullifies his right to be obeyed. A husband who mistreats his wife has violated Islamic law and undermined the concept of a harmonious marriage," he said.

Khairul Azhar further explained that in cases of abuse, a wife is not obligated to obey an oppressive husband, as obedience is only required in matters that do not contradict Allah's laws.

"As stated in a hadith of the Prophet Muhammad (PBUH): 'There is no obedience to creation in matters that lead to disobedience to the Creator (Allah). Indeed, obedience is only in matters of goodness' (hadith narrated by al-Bukhari)."

He stressed that a husband who abuses his wife is committing a sin against Allah and His Messenger.

Leaving a Toxic Marriage

"In facing such situations, Islam provides a way out through divorce, 'fasakh' (dissolution of marriage), or 'khuluq' (redemption of divorce)," said Khairul Azhar.

He added that these measures aim to protect the rights and safety of women from ongoing abuse and domestic violence.

Khairul Azhar defined domestic violence in the context of Islam as any form of oppression or mistreatment inflicted by a person on their family members, including their spouse. This can take physical, mental, emotional or sexual forms.

"Domestic violence contradicts the principles of Islam, which emphasise love and harmony within a household. Those who engage in violence are opposing the family-oriented guidance advocated by Islam, as highlighted in the Prophet Muhammad's (PBUH) saying: 'The best among you is the one who is best to his wife, and I am the best among you to my wife.' (Hadith narrated by Ibn Majah).

"This hadith clearly shows that Islam prohibits all forms of violence against wives and instead promotes kind treatment," he said.

Oppressed women can file for 'fasakh' or 'khuluq' through the Shariah court. (Source: Jabatan Kehakiman Syariah Perak)

Action

Victims of abuse have the right to pursue a happier life and should not have to endure suffering indefinitely. According to Khairul Azhar, housewives who are victims of domestic violence can take several actions, including reporting to the authorities.

"A wife can lodge a police report or seek assistance from the Social Welfare Department, apply for an Interim Protection Order, or request an Emergency Protection Order (EPO) to protect herself from an abusive husband.

"Oppressed women can also file for 'fasakh' or 'khuluq' through the Shariah court. Wives can apply for the dissolution of marriage, as this procedure is permitted in cases of physical or mental abuse," he said.

He also advised unemployed women to prepare themselves by acquiring skills to achieve financial independence, reducing reliance on an abusive husband.

"Not only will this help wives become more self-sufficient, but it also strengthens their resilience in facing future challenges," he added.

Regarding fears that unemployed women may lose custody of their children after escaping an abusive marriage, Khairul Azhar explained that under Islamic law, child custody ("hadanah") prioritises the welfare of the children.

"Wives need not worry about the financial burden of caring for their children. Women who have been mistreated have the right to claim reasonable financial support from their husbands through legal proceedings, including 'nafaq idhar' (maintenance during the waiting period after divorce), 'mutaah' (compensation for divorce) and jointly acquired property.

"Unemployed wives can also claim assets based on their contributions during the marriage, such as household management and other forms of support," he said.

According to Khairul Azhar, domestic violence contradicts the principles of Islam. (Source: Khairul Azhar's Facebook)

Legal Rights

Under the Domestic Violence Act 1994, Section 2 defines domestic violence as encompassing one or more acts, such as intentionally or knowingly placing or attempting to place the victim in fear of physical injury.

Retain Hariz Syakirah & Co Shariah lawyer Muhammad Hariz Md Yusoff explained that this section also covers abuse, such as confining or detaining the victim without consent, threatening the victim to instil fear for their safety or property, causing distress and inflicting psychological abuse, including emotional harm.

"Victims can seek emergency protection from Department of Social Welfare or call the Nur Kasih hotline at 15999. Additionally, they can obtain an IPO under Section 4 of the Domestic Violence Act 1994.

"Under this section, victims of domestic violence can apply for an IPO in court to prevent their husbands from continuing the abuse while the police investigation is ongoing," he said.

The added that when criminal proceedings against the husband commence, the wife must apply for a protection order in court under Section 5 of the Domestic Violence Act 1994.

"According to Section 7 of the Domestic Violence Act 1994, if the court is satisfied that the person under the protection order or IPO is likely to suffer actual physical injury, the court shall include an arrest warrant in the protection order or interim protection order. "Being unemployed is not a reason to endure a dangerous relationship. This country provides legal support and protection for women facing such situations," he said.

Being unemployed is not a reason to endure dangerous relationship, says Muhammad Hariz

Empower Through Knowledge

The lawyer advised women to rise above their circumstances and not allow themselves to remain trapped in spousal violence. According to Muhammad Hariz, unemployed women must build self-confidence, courage and an understanding of their rights.

"They need to realise that there is nothing wrong with escaping abuse, and every woman has the right to protection and justice. In more challenging cases, support from lawyers or organisations that assist abused women is essential," he said.

He emphasised that even as housewives, women should never remain silent and must understand their right to seek protection.

"Do not be afraid to file a report or seek help. Look for support from family, friends or welfare organisations, as well as external resources that can empower you," he added.

Regarding child custody, the legal practitioner said that under the legal system, a wife who flees domestic violence has the right to apply for custody of her children.

"Child custody will be determined by the Shariah court based on the welfare and best interests of the children. Being unemployed is not a barrier to obtaining custody rights.

"Women need to file for 'fasakh' in court so that the marriage can be annulled if the husband refuses to divorce them. After that, they can file a custody ('hadanah') application in court, attaching the husband's conviction for domestic violence," he said.

He further said that courts typically consider broader factors when determining custody, including the children's emotional wellbeing and safety.

Muhammad Hariz also stressed that wives should understand their rights as homemakers and learn about their legal entitlements to act accurately and efficiently if abuse occurs. — Bernama
